Herter Tells Ike Summit Outlook Dim

Secretary Gives Geneva Report To People Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was reported Monday to have told President Eisenhower that the foreign ministers deadlock at Geneva has dimmed hopes of arranging a satisfactory summit meeting.

Herter is understood also to have stressed that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev appears to be trying to frighten the West into a summit parley, rather than pave the way for reasonable negotiations on Germany's future.

Herter and Eisenhower talked for an hour at the White House, one day after Herter's return from Geneva.

Failure of the Geneva talks to ease tensions over the Soviet drive to force the Western Allies out of Berlin was the big topic.

Herter To Report To Nation

Herter also arranged to give the American people a television-radio report Tuesday night. It will be carried live by all the major radio networks and by the NBC and CBS TV networks at 8 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, running for 15 minutes. ABC-TV will carry a delayed telecast at 9:30 p.m. EST.

Aides said Herter would emphasize the West's determination to avoid further concessions to the Soviets lest it jeopardize the freedom of the West Berliners.

To mobilize congressional support for his attitude, Herter also agreed to give a confidential summary of the six-week Geneva talks to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the House Foreign Affairs Committee Tuesday.

Position Reaffirmed

Herter avoided discussing prospects for a summit meeting in talking with newsmen after his White House visit.

But Eisenhower and Herter were understood to have reaffirmed during their talk that they would oppose any such top-level parley unless the Soviets negotiated reasonably at Geneva when talks resume. They have been suspended to July 13.

Eisenhower was reported firm in his view that the Soviets must scrap thir ultimatum-like deadline for an end to Western occupation of West Berlin. The latest Soviet proposal set an 18-month deadline on this.

Compromise Housing Bill Clears Senate

56-31 Vote Follows Attack On Proposal By Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate late Monday passed a trimmed-down $1,375,000,000 housing bill designed to avert a veto by President Eisenhower.

The roll call vote was 56-31.

The action came only a few hours after the administration made it known it still doesn't like the compromise.

Housing Administrator Norman P. Mason said the bill is costly and "is full of bonuses for the big people." Mason objected, among other things, because it would provide for more public housing, which Eisenhower opposes.

The compromise measure now goes to the House which is expected to act on it Tuesday. A fight is likely there.

Sharp Debate

The Senate acted after a sharp debate in which some Northern Democrats made a sweeping attack on the cuts made in the measure.

They said the big Democratic majority in Congress was renouncing its own program and setting the stage for a Democratic defeat in the national election next year.

The administration's position was made known in a letter from Mason to Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. It raised the possibility of a veto when the bill gets to the White House.

Somewhat ahead of Mason's blast, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas praised the compromise as "a forward-looking piece of legislation."

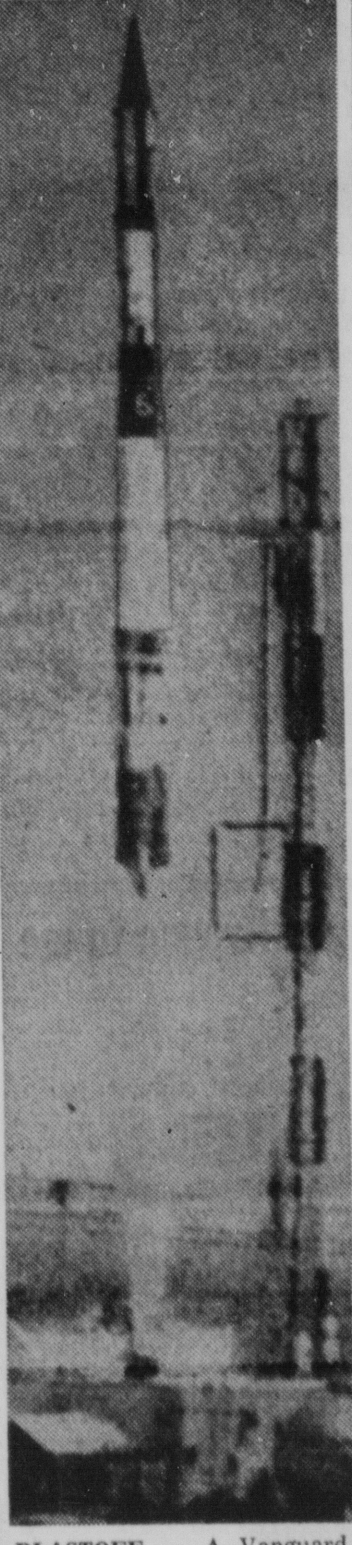
Sparkman Praises Bill

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala), a leader in pushing housing legislation, called the compromise a good bill, although he said some of its sections were not exactly to his liking.

The compromise—fashioned by a Senate-House Conference Committee last week—has drawn fire from Senate Democrats who count themselves liberals. But their reasons are far different from the administration's—they say the bill isn't extensive enough.

Early in the session, Eisenhower proposed a $1,650,000,000 housing program, the bulk of it for a six-year slum elimination effort.

The compromise two-year program totaling $1,375,000,000 evolved from an original Senate bill totaling $2,100,000,000 and a House version bearing a $2,675,000,000 tag.



BLASTOFF — A Vanguard rocket, carrying a "Sunshine Satellite" in its nose cone, is airborne after blastoff at Cape Canaveral, Fla., yesterday. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced several hours after the launching that it presumably failed to go into orbit. (AP Photofax)

Data Points To 2d Stage Malfunction

Weather Satellite Presumably Failed To Go Into Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Space Administration announced Wednesday night the Vanguard satellite launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., presumably failed to go into orbit.

This was the tenth launching of a Vanguard, two of which were successfully sent spinning around the earth.

An announcement by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, issued several hours after the launching, said:

"The satellite did not respond to interrogation by the minitrack station at San Diego and therefore is presumed not in orbit."

This referred to an attempt to signal the satellite at the time when it should have passed over the United States on its first intended orbit around the earth.

"On the basis of data which has been received," the NASA statement said, "it is indicated that there was some malfunction in the second stage. The exact nature of the difficulty will be determined from a further study of the data obtained."

Early Signals Erratic

Roger H. Gray, Vanguard project officer at the Cape, said:

"Data and telemetery received during the second-stage operation became noisy and we did not have reports from some tracking stations as we expected."

Gray said signals were picked up from tracking stations at Cape Canaveral, Blossom Point, Md., and Hawaii.

"Signals gave evidence of second and third-stage ignition. However, most of the signals were very erratic and we cannot be sure at this time whether the third-stage booster rocket went into orbit. We will have to wait until we receive signals of other tracking stations to be certain."

If successful, the 22½-pound, basketball sized satellite will measure the heat balance between the earth and the sun—that is, the amount of heat from the sun that reaches the earth and the amount the earth gives back.

Improved Forecasting

This information could result in improved weather forecasting and might aid man in his quest to actually control weather.

The 72-foot tall rocket, the type which tossed two earth satellites into orbit in nine previous tries, rose majestically from its launching pad at 3:16 p.m., EST.

It accelerated rapidly upward trailing a brilliant trail of fire.

After about 25 seconds the bullet-shaped rocket altered its vertical climb and rushed toward the northeast.

As it sped away, the rocket looked like a sliver of white hot metal in the sky.

The rocket weighed about 22,600 pounds at takeoff.

The vehicle intended to put the satellite into orbit was a three-stage affair—the first two engines using liquid fuel, the last stage a solid propellant engine.

Nuclear Attack Might Disable Half U.S. Homes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A civil defense expert told Congress Monday a major nuclear attack on 224 critical U.S. target areas would destroy or make unusable for varying periods half the nation's total dwellings.

Charles Shafer, chief meteorologist for the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization, said 24,800,000 dwellings would be destroyed or made uninhabitable by blast damage or radiation for 60 days to indefinitely.

Shafer testified at the first day of hearings by a congressional subcommittee studying the effects of nuclear warfare.

Shafer said outside blast areas or about 500,000 homes would get such a heavy fallout dose they would have to be abandoned for one or more years. Another 2,100,000 would have to be abandoned for several months to a year and 10,400,000 for about 60 days.

Frondizi Yields To Ultimatum From Military

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Arturo Frondizi's Cabinet resigned Monday night as Frondizi dramatically yielded to a virtual ultimatum from the nation's rebellious armed forces.

However, the President rejected the resignations of the ministers of war, the navy and the air force.

The military had bluntly told Frondizi either to change the course his government was following or face the threat of being ousted.

Frondizi had been struggling desperately against mushrooming defiance from military leaders which threatened to erupt into a coup d'etat.

The government suddenly disclosed that the entire Cabinet presented its resignation along with the presidents of the Central Bank and other official banking institutions.

Frondizi's reaction to the resignations was not immediately known.

The President's apparent truce with the discontented military men last weekend was apparently broken Monday as the officers pressed for drastic changes in his government's officials and policies.

The rebellious military accused the 14-month-old administration of failing to fulfill its many promises of the electoral campaign and of permitting supporters of ex-President Juan Peron, leftists and even some Communists to infiltrate the government.

Lawyer Investigates "Superman's" Death

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP) — The mother of George Reeves, television's "Superman," said Monday she doesn't believe her son killed himself. She said she has hired a Hollywood attorney to investigate the case.

Reeves, 45, shot and killed himself, police said, early last Tuesday shortly after saying goodnight to his house guests, fiancee Lenore Lemmon, 35, and writer Robert Condon, 45.

Industry Negotiator Still Hopes For Pact To Avert Steel Tieup

WASHINGTON (AP) — R. Conrad Cooper, chief steel industry negotiator, said Monday he still has hopes for a contract settlement that would avoid a July 1 steel strike.

Cooper, executive vice president of U.S. Steel Corp., said the industry is doing its best to avoid a shutdown. He talked with newsmen after a 45-minute private conference with Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Finnegan similarly conferred here last week with President David J. McDonald of the Steel Workers Union.

Cooper said one of the main reasons for the current deadlock in talks between industry and union negotiators in New York is the lack of any clear-cut demands from the union.

Cooper said the industry's stand is still that any settlement must be noninflationary.

He denied reports that government officials have urged that any settlement stress fringe benefits rather than wages in order to minimize inflationary impact. He said so far as the steel companies are concerned a penny per hour spent in pensions or other welfare type benefits is just as costly as a penny in increased wages.

Finnegan's talk with Cooper — as was his earlier one with McDonald—was an informal, exploratory conversation, with no official status.

Finnegan pointed out neither the industry nor the union has requested government mediation aid. He said his service could enter the case without such an invitation, however.

Negotiations are to resume Tuesday afternoon in New York.

The contract in the steel industry expires at midnight June 30. Unless agreement is reached by that time on new contract terms, a strike of union steel workers could choke off 90 percent of the nation's steel production.

Negotiations have been under way here since May 5 between the union and representatives of 12 major steel producers. A session Monday appeared fruitless.

J. & L. Wildcat Strike Spreads

PITTSBURGH (UPI) —A wildcat strike at the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.'s South Side Works, which began in the open hearth department, spread Monday and threatened to shut down the plant.

A company spokesman said that only a handful of workers reported for the 4 p.m. shift and that plant production would be virtually halted. Some 12,000 workers are employed at the plant. Union officials had no comment on the strike's spread.

A meeting was scheduled for Tuesday morning between USW District 16 Director John Murray and officials of the striking local to discuss the situation.

The 1,800 open hearth workers, members of United steelworkers Local 1272 — home local of USW President David J. McDonald—walked off the job on the midnight shift in a dispute over incentive pay and set up picket lines at the plant's three gates.

They permitted employes of other departments to enter the plant, but works manager Walter Lewis said it was "only a matter of time" until the entire works would be shut down.

Surgeons Remove Hagerty's Appendix

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surgeons operated on James C. Hagerty, press secretary to President Eisenhower, for removal Monday of what they described as an acutely inflamed appendix.

Immediately after the operation at Walter Reed Army Hospital, the physicians sent word to the White House that the condition of Hagerty, 50, was as good as could be expected at that time.

In advance of the surgery, which was decided upon after Hagerty underwent an examination this morning, Associate Press Secretary Anne Wheaton said, there was no cause for alarm.

Quartet Gets Life For Rape Of Negro Coed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A white-haired Southern judge Monday handed out life sentences to four white youths convicted of raping a Negro coed. Sentencing came seven weeks after the crime.

Judge W. May Walker told the four sternly they had committed a horrible crime and were lucky to escape the electric chair. He recommended that they direct any appeal they might have to God.

The sentences, maximum possible under jury recommendations of mercy, were hailed by a Tallahassee Negro leader as a step toward equal justice for his race.

A life sentence for rape in Florida customarily means serving at least 10 years in prison, although a prisoner would become eligible for parole after six months.

No white man ever has paid the death penalty in Florida or any other state for rape of a Negro.

Only one of the four is considering an appeal. S. Gunter Toney, attorney for Willion (Ted) Collinsworth, said Collinsworth's family was divided over the matter of an appeal and no decision would be reached for a few days. Sixty days are allowed under Florida law for an appeal.

Collinsworth, an illiterate 23-year-old lineman, is the oldest of the four. He is married and has two children. His wife, who was in the courtroom with their 2-year-old son, wept when sentence was pronounced.

The three others were Patrick (Gene) Scarborough, 20, an Air Force man; David Ervin Beagles, 18, high school senior; and Ollie Stoutamire, 16, high school dropout. Their court appointed attorneys said they accepted the penalties and would make no effort for a new trial or for an appeal.

Sheriff's deputies whisked the four from the courtroom direct to Raiford State Prison, 140 miles east of here, where they had been held since their conviction on on June 14.

Some two hours after the four were sentenced, a 16-year-old Negro youth who had been convicted by an all white jury at Marianna for the rape of a white grandmother without a recommendation of mercy, escaped the electric chair. Marianna is 60 miles west of here.

Judge E. C. Welch granted the Negro, Jimmie Lee Clark, a new trial. Clark immediately entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Last Tribute Paid Ethel Barrymore

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) —Show business paid its last tribute Monday to actress Ethel Barrymore, revered "first lady" of the American theater.

The actress, who died of a heart ailment at the age of 79 Wednesday, was placed in a temporary crypt at Calvary Cemetery following Requiem High Mass at the Catholic Church of the Good Shepherd.

Some 300 mourners, including top stars of the entertainment world, gathered with family members for the Mass at the flower-banked chapel.

Senate Passes Wheat Support Bill; Veto Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Monday night passed 44-40 and sent to an almost certain veto by President Eisenhower, a bill which would raise the wheat price support level to 90 per cent of parity. It would also order a 25 per cent cut in acreage allotments.

In a dramatic about face, the Senate discarded its own once-passed bill calling for a different formula, and accepted this House-passed version from which the House had refused to budge.

The House refused last week to accept a proposed compromise between its 90-25 per cent version and a Senate measure which offered three alternatives with lower price supports.

Parity is a price standard calculated to be fair to the farmer in relation to his costs of operation.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, told the Senate he expects a veto by Eisenhower, but that he saw no chance at all of getting the House to give ground.

The administration favors a withdrawal from the price support system and elimination of controls on how much a farmer may produce.

Elizabeth Tours Aluminum Plant

ARVIDA, Que. (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth sailed through dense fog and drove through teeming rain Monday to see ingots being made at the world's biggest aluminum plant but she got there just in time to be told that a technical fault had gummed up the works.

The Queen and Prince Philip, wearing safety glasses and with faces red from the more than 100 degree heat, spent more than half an hour in the big smelter of the British owned Aluminum Company of Canada.

They were shown around by works manager J. E. Ferguson while grimy workers in coveralls applauded.

Embarrassed officials joined Ferguson in explaining to the Queen that while crews at the smelter were preparing the scene about 30 minutes before she arrived, the molten metal ironed too quickly and as a result the workers were unable to go ahead with a special demonstration when the royal couple drove into the plant.

While touring the smelter, Philip was as much interested in the men who make the aluminum as the product they make.

Long Makes Freedom Move

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — District Judge Robert Jones Monday night signed a writ of habeas corpus seeking Gov. Earl K. Long's release from a state mental hospital.

Judge Jones said the hearing would be held at 10 a. m. Friday in 22nd Judicial District Court at the St. Tammany Parish (county) courthouse at Covington.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The governor's job in Louisiana went begging Monday while Gov. Earl K. Long honed the legal key that may get him out of a state mental hospital ward.

Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar—turning away from an attorney general ruling that made it mandatory for him to take over for his ailing chief—said:

"I'm still the lieutenant governor."

He indicated he would seek legal advice other than that from Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion, who issued a 1,200-word opinion stating Frazar must take over as acting governor.

Joe Arthur Sims of Hammond, La., retained as Long's chief counsel, said he might file a petition as early as Wednesday to get his client out of Southeast Louisiana Hospital at Mandeville. Sims did not indicate what form the petition would take.

While Louisiana groped through the fog for some solution to its bizarre problem, Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr., clouded the picture still more with a contention that Long's commitment was "questionable in its validity."

Martin says he will recognize no one but Long as governor.

At the hospital, some 60 miles away, where Long was taken fighting and cursing Thursday night, doctors said the 63-year-old governor's condition had changed little. He is confined to a lonely ward with legal advisors his only visitors.

Sims visited Long and said he found the governor "in good health and good spirits, but mad as the dickens. That seemed natural to me after (his) 22 days of confinement in various mental hospitals."

Gremillion's opinion in essence said that Long's inability to hold office—without any concern with his sanity or insanity—was determined by the court's order commiting him to the hospital.

Two doctors examined Long after he fled from Ochsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans last Thursday. They told the court Long was suffering from paranoid schizophrenia—delusions of persecution—and Judge Fred Leblanc ordered him confined at Mandeville.

Hungarian Anti-Red Leader Kovacs Dies

VIENNA (UPI) — Bela Kovacs, who fought communism and lost as leader of Hungary's Smallholders Party, died in a hospital in south Hungary Monday after a long illness, radio Budapest said.

Kovacs was about 60. He had been in the hospital for the last six months.

After World War II Kovacs headed Hungary's biggest party, the Smallholders, and also was minister of agriculture. He was arrested by the Russians in 1948 when they took over Hungary and only released in 1953 after Stalin's death.

Keep Temper, Ike Advises Soviet-Bound Governors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine state governors about to tour the Soviet Union got a bit of advice from President Eisenhower Monday:

Don't get too mad.

The governors, from widespread parts of the country, called on the President on the eve of their departure for a three-week good will tour of the Soviet Union.

Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida, acting as spokesman for the group, said Eisenhower gave the governors "a very realistic appraisal of some of the things he thought we would run into over there."

Collins said the President summed it all up smilingly by advising:

"Stay in good humor and don't get too mad."

"I told him," Collins said, "that if they didn't say anything bad about Robert E. Lee, then I wouldn't say anything bad about Lenin."

In a more serious vein, he said Eisenhower told the group they would encounter an atmosphere in which some meaningful discussions should result.

The idea behind the governors' trip is that most U.S.-Soviet exchange visits have been at the federal level and that something more might be accomplished if some state officials got together with their counterparts on the other side of the Iron Curtain.

New York University's International Institute of Education suggested the trip. The Loan Foundation and the Rockefeller Brothers Foundation are financing it. The governors plan to leave for Moscow Tuesday by way of Paris.

Besides Collins, the delegation includes Govs. William R. Stratton of Illinois, Robert Meyner of New Jersey, John E. Davis of North Dakota, George D. Clyde of Utah, Luther Hodges of North Carolina, Robert E. Smylie of Idaho, Cecil Underwood of West Virginia and Stephen L. R. McNichols of Colorado.

Sheriff's deputies whisked the four from the courtroom direct to Raiford State Prison, 140 miles east of here, where they had been held since their conviction on on June 14.

Some two hours after the four were sentenced, a 16-year-old Negro youth who had been convicted by an all white jury at Marianna for the rape of a white grandmother without a recommendation of mercy, escaped the electric chair. Marianna is 60 miles west of here.

Judge E. C. Welch granted the Negro, Jimmie Lee Clark, a new trial. Clark immediately entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Long Makes Freedom Move

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — District Judge Robert Jones Monday night signed a writ of habeas corpus seeking Gov. Earl K. Long's release from a state mental hospital.

Judge Jones said the hearing would be held at 10 a. m. Friday in 22nd Judicial District Court at the St. Tammany Parish (county) courthouse at Covington.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The governor's job in Louisiana went begging Monday while Gov. Earl K. Long honed the legal key that may get him out of a state mental hospital ward.

Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar—turning away from an attorney general ruling that made it mandatory for him to take over for his ailing chief—said:

"I'm still the lieutenant governor."

He indicated he would seek legal advice other than that from Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion, who issued a 1,200-word opinion stating Frazar must take over as acting governor.

Joe Arthur Sims of Hammond, La., retained as Long's chief counsel, said he might file a petition as early as Wednesday to get his client out of Southeast Louisiana Hospital at Mandeville. Sims did not indicate what form the petition would take.

While Louisiana groped through the fog for some solution to its bizarre problem, Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr., clouded the picture still more with a contention that Long's commitment was "questionable in its validity."

Martin says he will recognize no one but Long as governor.

At the hospital, some 60 miles away, where Long was taken fighting and cursing Thursday night, doctors said the 63-year-old governor's condition had changed little. He is confined to a lonely ward with legal advisors his only visitors.

Sims visited Long and said he found the governor "in good health and good spirits, but mad as the dickens. That seemed natural to me after (his) 22 days of confinement in various mental hospitals."

Gremillion's opinion in essence said that Long's inability to hold office—without any concern with his sanity or insanity—was determined by the court's order commiting him to the hospital.

Two doctors examined Long after he fled from Ochsner Foundation Hospital in New Orleans last Thursday. They told the court Long was suffering from paranoid schizophrenia—delusions of persecution—and Judge Fred Leblanc ordered him confined at Mandeville.

Hungarian Anti-Red Leader Kovacs Dies

VIENNA (UPI) — Bela Kovacs, who fought communism and lost as leader of Hungary's Smallholders Party, died in a hospital in south Hungary Monday after a long illness, radio Budapest said.

Kovacs was about 60. He had been in the hospital for the last six months.

After World War II Kovacs headed Hungary's biggest party, the Smallholders, and also was minister of agriculture. He was arrested by the Russians in 1948 when they took over Hungary and only released in 1953 after Stalin's death.

Compromise Housing Bill Clears Senate

56-31 Vote Follows Attack On Proposal By Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate late Monday passed a trimmed-down $1,375,000,000 housing bill designed to avert a veto by President Eisenhower.

The roll call vote was 56-31.

The action came only a few hours after the administration made it known it still doesn't like the compromise.

Housing Administrator Norman P. Mason said the bill is costly and "is full of bonuses for the big people." Mason objected, among other things, because it would provide for more public housing, which Eisenhower opposes.

The compromise measure now goes to the House which is expected to act on it Tuesday. A fight is likely there.

Sharp Debate

The Senate acted after a sharp debate in which some Northern Democrats made a sweeping attack on the cuts made in the measure.

They said the big Democratic majority in Congress was renouncing its own program and setting the stage for a Democratic defeat in the national election next year.

The administration's position was made known in a letter from Mason to Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. It raised the possibility of a veto when the bill gets to the White House.

Somewhat ahead of Mason's blast, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas praised the compromise as "a forward-looking piece of legislation."

Sparkman Praises Bill

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala), a leader in pushing housing legislation, called the compromise a good bill, although he said some of its sections were not exactly to his liking.

The compromise—fashioned by a Senate-House Conference Committee last week—has drawn fire from Senate Democrats who count themselves liberals. But their reasons are far different from the administration's—they say the bill isn't extensive enough.

Early in the session, Eisenhower proposed a $1,650,000,000 housing program, the bulk of it for a six-year slum elimination effort.

The compromise two-year program totaling $1,375,000,000 evolved from an original Senate bill totaling $2,100,000,000 and a House version bearing a $2,675,000,000 tag.

Senate Passes Wheat Support Bill; Veto Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Monday night passed 44-40 and sent to an almost certain veto by President Eisenhower, a bill which would raise the wheat price support level to 90 per cent of parity. It would also order a 25 per cent cut in acreage allotments.

In a dramatic about face, the Senate discarded its own once-passed bill calling for a different formula, and accepted this House-passed version from which the House had refused to budge.

The House refused last week to accept a proposed compromise between its 90-25 per cent version and a Senate measure which offered three alternatives with lower price supports.

Parity is a price standard calculated to be fair to the farmer in relation to his costs of operation.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, told the Senate he expects a veto by Eisenhower, but that he saw no chance at all of getting the House to give ground.

The administration favors a withdrawal from the price support system and elimination of controls on how much a farmer may produce.

Last Tribute Paid Ethel Barrymore

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) —Show business paid its last tribute Monday to actress Ethel Barrymore, revered "first lady" of the American theater.

The actress, who died of a heart ailment at the age of 79 Wednesday, was placed in a temporary crypt at Calvary Cemetery following Requiem High Mass at the Catholic Church of the Good Shepherd.

Some 300 mourners, including top stars of the entertainment world, gathered with family members for the Mass at the flower-banked chapel.

Keep Temper, Ike Advises Soviet-Bound Governors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine state governors about to tour the Soviet Union got a bit of advice from President Eisenhower Monday:

Don't get too mad.

The governors, from widespread parts of the country, called on the President on the eve of their departure for a three-week good will tour of the Soviet Union.

Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida, acting as spokesman for the group, said Eisenhower gave the governors "a very realistic appraisal of some of the things he thought we would run into over there."

Collins said the President summed it all up smilingly by advising:

"Stay in good humor and don't get too mad."

"I told him," Collins said, "that if they didn't say anything bad about Robert E. Lee, then I wouldn't say anything bad about Lenin."

In a more serious vein, he said Eisenhower told the group they would encounter an atmosphere in which some meaningful discussions should result.

The idea behind the governors' trip is that most U.S.-Soviet exchange visits have been at the federal level and that something more might be accomplished if some state officials got together with their counterparts on the other side of the Iron Curtain.

New York University's International Institute of Education suggested the trip. The Loan Foundation and the Rockefeller Brothers Foundation are financing it. The governors plan to leave for Moscow Tuesday by way of Paris.

Data Points To 2d Stage Malfunction

Weather Satellite Presumably Failed To Go Into Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Space Administration announced Wednesday night the Vanguard satellite launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., presumably failed to go into orbit.

This was the tenth launching of a Vanguard, two of which were successfully sent spinning around the earth.

An announcement by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, issued several hours after the launching, said:

"The satellite did not respond to interrogation by the minitrack station at San Diego and therefore is presumed not in orbit."

This referred to an attempt to signal the satellite at the time when it should have passed over the United States on its first intended orbit around the earth.

"On the basis of data which has been received," the NASA statement said, "it is indicated that there was some malfunction in the second stage. The exact nature of the difficulty will be determined from a further study of the data obtained."

Early Signals Erratic

Roger H. Gray, Vanguard project officer at the Cape, said:

"Data and telemetery received during the second-stage operation became noisy and we did not have reports from some tracking stations as we expected."

Gray said signals were picked up from tracking stations at Cape Canaveral, Blossom Point, Md., and Hawaii.

"Signals gave evidence of second and third-stage ignition. However, most of the signals were very erratic and we cannot be sure at this time whether the third-stage booster rocket went into orbit. We will have to wait until we receive signals of other tracking stations to be certain."

If successful, the 22½-pound, basketball sized satellite will measure the heat balance between the earth and the sun—that is, the amount of heat from the sun that reaches the earth and the amount the earth gives back.

Improved Forecasting

This information could result in improved weather forecasting and might aid man in his quest to actually control weather.

The 72-foot tall rocket, the type which tossed two earth satellites into orbit in nine previous tries, rose majestically from its launching pad at 3:16 p.m., EST.

It accelerated rapidly upward trailing a brilliant trail of fire.

After about 25 seconds the bullet-shaped rocket altered its vertical climb and rushed toward the northeast.

As it sped away, the rocket looked like a sliver of white hot metal in the sky.

The rocket weighed about 22,600 pounds at takeoff.

The vehicle intended to put the satellite into orbit was a three-stage affair—the first two engines using liquid fuel, the last stage a solid propellant engine.

Elizabeth Tours Aluminum Plant

ARVIDA, Que. (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth sailed through dense fog and drove through teeming rain Monday to see ingots being made at the world's biggest aluminum plant but she got there just in time to be told that a technical fault had gummed up the works.

The Queen and Prince Philip, wearing safety glasses and with faces red from the more than 100 degree heat, spent more than half an hour in the big smelter of the British owned Aluminum Company of Canada.

They were shown around by works manager J. E. Ferguson while grimy workers in coveralls applauded.

Embarrassed officials joined Ferguson in explaining to the Queen that while crews at the smelter were preparing the scene about 30 minutes before she arrived, the molten metal ironed too quickly and as a result the workers were unable to go ahead with a special demonstration when the royal couple drove into the plant.

While touring the smelter, Philip was as much interested in the men who make the aluminum as the product they make.

Move To Delay Accused Gamblers' Trial Rejected

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — Two defense motions—to delay the tax evasion trial of eight accused gamblers and to switch the case to another jurisdiction — were turned down Monday.

The defense asked for an indefinite delay and a change of venue on grounds that widespread publicity given the case created prejudice in this city, where an alleged multimillion - dollar betting syndicate operated.

But federal Judge Cale J. Holder said the defense had not proved that any prospective juror had read, heard or been influenced by publicity.

He added that there was no evidence to support the idea that another federal jurisdiction exists "that is a vacuum tube or Utopia where newspaper publicity has not reached."

Judge Holder ordered some 80 prospective jurors recalled to the court room late Monday afternoon and said questioning of them will start Tuesday. The jurors had been excused most of the day while attorneys argued the motions for delay and change of venue.

Six surprised newsmen were called to the witness stand to testify about publicity given the nation's biggest criminal tax case.

Cited by the defense were news stories identifying the defendants as big-shot gamblers, some of them ex-convicts, who took in an estimated 10 million dollars in football and baseball bets in 10 weeks during the fall of 1957.

The government claims the defendants evaded the 10 per cent excise tax on $3,263,150 in bets before U.S. Treasury agents broke up the downtown office in a raid on Nov. 29, 1957.

Western Md. Campus Bookstore Robbed

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Thieves escaped with $367.25 in cash during the weekend at the bookstore in Winslow Hall, a new recreation building on Western Maryland College campus.

State Police at Randallstown said the money was taken from two cash registers. Also missing were three class rings with emerald colored stones, 12 keys on a key ring and three pocket size books.

Charles Foutz Jr., manager of the book store, discovered the thefts Monday morning.

The grape was probably introduced into southern France and Italy by the Phoenicians about 600 B.C.

Baltimore Boy Wins Release From Patuxent

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — A 16-year-old Baltimore youth won release from Patuxent Institution Monday after a jury was told his condition improved when he was transferred to the Maryland Penitentiary for security reasons.

The Baltimore County Circuit Court jury of eight men and four women under Chief Judge John B. Gontrum deliberated only 35 minutes before freeing Charles L. Webster.

Webster had been sentenced to two years in the reformatory late in 1956 after being convicted of housebreaking, but the jail term was deferred and he was sent to Patuxent for observation and examination. After a hearing May 24, 1957, he was committed to the institution for treatment and rehabilitation.

After spending two years at Patuxent, where he was a disciplinary problem, Webster petitioned for a review of his status.

Webster was transferred to the Maryland Penitentiary April 11 following an incident at Patuxent in which he was reported to have broken through a cinder block cell wall.

The youth testified he preferred life in the penitentiary to that at Patuxent. He said at the penitentiary he was put on a regular work detail for the first time and had yard privileges every day. At Patuxent, Webster said, he had been in the outdoor recreation area only three times in two years.

Husband Quizzed In Wife's Fatal Beating

BALTIMORE (AP) — The husband of a 31-year-old woman beaten to death was questioned Monday by Baltimore police.

Mrs. Leana Rea died Sunday night in Maryland General Hospital. She had been found unconscious about six hours earlier by a neighbor in her apartment.

Mrs. Ruth Wimberly, who lives upstairs, said she went to the Rea apartment after hearing sounds of a fight. Mrs. Rea was beaten severely on the head.

Police took her 29-year-old husband into custody a few hours later at the home of a friend.

Legislative Group Ready To Tackle Water Issues

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A special legislative committee organized Monday and mapped plans to tackle some of the controversial water legislation shunted to the Legislative Council by the 1959 Maryland General Assembly.

The committee, headed by Sen. Louis N. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel), will study and make recommendations on bills to:

Develop a state waterways plan for improving Maryland rivers and harbors not subject to federal aid.

Create a system of licensing small boats.

Permit patent tonging for oysters in certain areas of the Potomac River as may be determined by the Tidewater Fisheries Commission.

Impose certain restrictions upon the operation of toilets on watercraft.

And reduce the minimum legal size of certain ocean fish taken in Worcester County waters.

All five of the measures, some of them highly controversial, were dispatched to the council — between sessions study group of the Legislature — after failing to win approval of both House and Senate.

The committee discussed them only briefly Monday with plans to go into them more fully at a later date.

Serving with Phipps on the committee are Del. Egbert Quinn (D-Somerset), vice chairman; Sens. Harry R. Hughes (D-Caroline), Joseph V. Mach (D-Balto 2nd), John L. Sanford Jr. (D-Worcester); and Dels. Frank Harris (D-Cecil), William Walsh (D-Allegany), Randolph Harrison (D-Talbot) and John F. McNulty (D-Anne Arundel).

The boat licensing act and river and harbor development bill will be major projects for the group to study.

Maryland has only until next April to decide whether it wants to license and regulate small boats or let the federal government do it. Congress has already passed a regulatory bill but has given states until April 1960 to pass measures of their own.

The boat act introduced at the 1959 session was scuttled after mounting protests from boat owners. They objected chiefly to higher state licensing fees than those proposed by the federal government and to letting the Tidewater Fisheries Commission operate the law rather than a new agency or combination of present agencies.

The state law drafted by the TFC proposed state fees of $5 per year per boat for all classes of boats. The federal government plans to regulate only those over 10 horsepower and charge only $5 for the first three-year period and an annual fee of $3 after that. The Coast Guard will regulate licensing if the federal government handles it.

Boat owners criticized the state measure as a revenue-raising bill which would divert their license money into general funds and give them no special benefits.

Tawes To Help Raise New Flag

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Monday received a floral invitation to Philadelphia's July 4 flag-raising ceremony but regretfully declined it because of another date with a 49-star flag.

Tawes told Miss Joan Marie Bergen, the attractive brunette history teacher who extended the invitation, that he'll be at Ft. McHenry in Baltimore that day, helping raise the new Star Spangled Banner over the birthplace of the national anthem.

The 49-star flag will be raised over Ft. McHenry at 12:01 a.m. July 4, the first place in the nation to fly it. The flag flies at Ft. McHenry 24 hours a day. It was there "by the dawn's early light" that Francis Scott Key saw the flag from a British ship on which he was detained while on a mission to try to release a prisoner during the bombardment of the fort in September, 1814.

Gov. Tawes told Miss Bergen, who as "Miss Liberty Belle" heads a delegation of Philadelphians touring the 13 original states with invitations, that he will be happy to send a representative to the Freedom Week ceremony there. He received a floral liberty bell from the Philadelphia group.

Eight Boys Arrested In Resort Crackdown

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — The threatened crackdown on juvenile law breakers at this ocean resort began over the weekend with the arrest of eight youngsters.

All were charged with illegal possession of alcoholic beverages, but one, Henry M. Krauss of Linwood, Pa., was acquitted in Magistrate's Court Monday.

Joseph Rogers, 16, and Elden Lehman, 17, both of Arlington, Va., were arrested Saturday night and fined the next morning.

Arrested early Sunday were Michael Hanley and Robert Cavarlo, both of Arlington, and Richard Polin of Salisbury. Krauss and Philip Profit, also of Linwood, Pa., and Richard Clay of McKeesport, Pa., were arrested Sunday night.

Fines totaling $152.50 were imposed on each youth.

Mayor Hugh Cropper Jr. announced last month that one of his principal objectives during the summer tourist season would be to crackdown on rowdyism and juvenile law breakers.

Patuxent Inmate Shot Trying Escape

JESSUP, Md. (AP)—A 19-year-old inmate of the Patuxent Institution was shot in the legs by a guard as he attempted to escape over a high barbed wire fence Monday.

Charles F. Petrillo of Hillside, Md., was not seriously wounded, prison officials said.

After he was apprehended, Petrillo tried to break away from the guards but was quickly subdued. An unidentified inmate reportedly tried to break out with Petrillo but halted when confronted by guards.

Prison officials said Petrillo was one of the 34 inmates who made a mass break from the institution for juvenile offenders last month.

The Bermuda cedar actually is a juniper of a type found nowhere else in the world.

Starkweather Turned Down By High Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Supreme Court refused Monday to review the case of Charles R. Starkweather, Nebraska's youthful mass murderer.

In Nebraska, authorities moved immediately to set a new execution date for the 20-year-old killer of 11 persons, while in Washington his attorneys mapped new plans to keep him alive.

The Supreme Court, acting swiftly on a petition for review filed only last week, denied it without comment.

Starkweather has had four stays of execution since his conviction in May, 1958, for one of the 11 slayings to which he confessed. He was not tried for the others. His 15-year-old girl friend, Caril Fugate, who accompanied him on the three-day murder spree, is serving a life sentence as an accomplice.

Despite the Supreme Court's refusal to review his case, the condemned killer said he has not given up hope.

Starkweather made the comment to deputy Nebraska Penitentiary Warden John Greenholtz in Lincoln after receiving word of the court action by radio in his cell. He had nothing else to say.

Family Slaying Probe Squad Disbanded

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special police detachment which has been working full time on the Carroll V. Jackson family murders was broken up Monday.

The five detectives who have been working full time for three months on the Louisa County, Va., case were returned to their respective squads.

Chief detective Edgar E. Scott said the move was dictated by a manpower shortage in the police department. He said it does not mean the investigation of the unsolved quadruple slayings has ended.

The squad has been meeting once a week with Maryland and Virginia police to compare notes on the case.

The bodies of Mrs. Jackson and a five-year-old daughter were found in a shallow grave near Annapolis, Md., March 21. The bodies of Jackson and an 18-month-old daughter were found buried in a sawdust pile near Fredericksburg, Va., March 5.

Fuchs' Release Believed Near

LONDON (UPI) — British security agents Monday spirited Klaus Fuchs out of Wakefield Prison and into London for the final formalities which will free the convicted atom spy and speed him behind the Iron Curtain, it was reliably reported.

Government officials refused to confirm or deny reports that Klaus, the German-born scientist who passed Western atomic secrets to Russia, had been released. In fact, home office officials all but denied that Fuchs existed.

Authorities at Wakefield Prison in Yorkshire, some 180 miles north of London, likewise refused to comment on the reports of Fuchs' release.

Farmer Dragged By Runaway Tractor

INGLESIDE, Md. (AP) — A farmer trying to climb back on his runaway tractor lost his footing and was cut and bruised by a disc and drag which ran over him Monday.

Taken to Kent-Queen Anne's Hospital in Chestertown, 15 miles northwest of here, was Edward Kane, 27. He was given surgical treatment for cuts on his face, arms and body.

The accident happened on the farm of James Emory, who lives one mile north of here. Kane was discing a 20-acre field preparatory to seeding soy beans.

A farmer passing by in a truck saw the runaway tractor and Kane lying injured behind it.

Multiple Sclerosis is one of the nation's most serious medical-economic problems. This crippling disease which strikes between the ages of 20 and 40 years is a family and community problem. Best medical estimates are that in the United States 250,000 suffer from MS. In the Maryland Area we have records of more than 1,500 cases of MS. In Allegany and Garrett Counties, we have uncovered at least 40 cases. Multiple Sclerosis is a disease of the central nervous system —the brain and spinal cord. The brain and spinal cord control such important body functions as walking, talking, hearing, eating, tying a shoe lace, and opening a door. These functions are governed by impulses from the brain sent through nerves in the spinal cord to other parts of the body. The nerves in the spinal cord are coated by an insulating material called myelin. When disease strikes, patches of myelin disintegrate, and are replaced by scar tissue. (Many Scars) When this happens, impulses have trouble getting by the scarred spots. With this interference, come malfunctions, such as these:

Baltimore Boy Wins Release From Patuxent

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — A 16-year-old Baltimore youth won release from Patuxent Institution Monday after a jury was told his condition improved when he was transferred to the Maryland Penitentiary for security reasons.

The Baltimore County Circuit Court jury of eight men and four women under Chief Judge John B. Gontrum deliberated only 35 minutes before freeing Charles L. Webster.

Webster had been sentenced to two years in the reformatory late in 1956 after being convicted of housebreaking, but the jail term was deferred and he was sent to Patuxent for observation and examination. After a hearing May 24, 1957, he was committed to the institution for treatment and rehabilitation.

After spending two years at Patuxent, where he was a disciplinary problem, Webster petitioned for a review of his status.

Webster was transferred to the Maryland Penitentiary April 11 following an incident at Patuxent in which he was reported to have broken through a cinder block cell wall.

The youth testified he preferred life in the penitentiary to that at Patuxent. He said at the penitentiary he was put on a regular work detail for the first time and had yard privileges every day. At Patuxent, Webster said, he had been in the outdoor recreation area only three times in two years.

Husband Quizzed In Wife's Fatal Beating

BALTIMORE (AP) — The husband of a 31-year-old woman beaten to death was questioned Monday by Baltimore police.

Mrs. Leana Rea died Sunday night in Maryland General Hospital. She had been found unconscious about six hours earlier by a neighbor in her apartment.

Mrs. Ruth Wimberly, who lives upstairs, said she went to the Rea apartment after hearing sounds of a fight. Mrs. Rea was beaten severely on the head.

Police took her 29-year-old husband into custody a few hours later at the home of a friend.

Legislative Group Ready To Tackle Water Issues

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A special legislative committee organized Monday and mapped plans to tackle some of the controversial water legislation shunted to the Legislative Council by the 1959 Maryland General Assembly.

The committee, headed by Sen. Louis N. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel), will study and make recommendations on bills to:

Develop a state waterways plan for improving Maryland rivers and harbors not subject to federal aid.

Create a system of licensing small boats.

Permit patent tonging for oysters in certain areas of the Potomac River as may be determined by the Tidewater Fisheries Commission.

Impose certain restrictions upon the operation of toilets on watercraft.

And reduce the minimum legal size of certain ocean fish taken in Worcester County waters.

All five of the measures, some of them highly controversial, were dispatched to the council — between sessions study group of the Legislature — after failing to win approval of both House and Senate.

The committee discussed them only briefly Monday with plans to go into them more fully at a later date.

Serving with Phipps on the committee are Del. Egbert Quinn (D-Somerset), vice chairman; Sens. Harry R. Hughes (D-Caroline), Joseph V. Mach (D-Balto 2nd), John L. Sanford Jr. (D-Worcester); and Dels. Frank Harris (D-Cecil), William Walsh (D-Allegany), Randolph Harrison (D-Talbot) and John F. McNulty (D-Anne Arundel).

The boat licensing act and river and harbor development bill will be major projects for the group to study.

Maryland has only until next April to decide whether it wants to license and regulate small boats or let the federal government do it. Congress has already passed a regulatory bill but has given states until April 1960 to pass measures of their own.

The boat act introduced at the 1959 session was scuttled after mounting protests from boat owners. They objected chiefly to higher state licensing fees than those proposed by the federal government and to letting the Tidewater Fisheries Commission operate the law rather than a new agency or combination of present agencies.

The state law drafted by the TFC proposed state fees of $5 per year per boat for all classes of boats. The federal government plans to regulate only those over 10 horsepower and charge only $5 for the first three-year period and an annual fee of $3 after that. The Coast Guard will regulate licensing if the federal government handles it.

Boat owners criticized the state measure as a revenue-raising bill which would divert their license money into general funds and give them no special benefits.

Tawes To Help Raise New Flag

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Monday received a floral invitation to Philadelphia's July 4 flag-raising ceremony but regretfully declined it because of another date with a 49-star flag.

Tawes told Miss Joan Marie Bergen, the attractive brunette history teacher who extended the invitation, that he'll be at Ft. McHenry in Baltimore that day, helping raise the new Star Spangled Banner over the birthplace of the national anthem.

The 49-star flag will be raised over Ft. McHenry at 12:01 a.m. July 4, the first place in the nation to fly it. The flag flies at Ft. McHenry 24 hours a day. It was there "by the dawn's early light" that Francis Scott Key saw the flag from a British ship on which he was detained while on a mission to try to release a prisoner during the bombardment of the fort in September, 1814.

Gov. Tawes told Miss Bergen, who as "Miss Liberty Belle" heads a delegation of Philadelphians touring the 13 original states with invitations, that he will be happy to send a representative to the Freedom Week ceremony there. He received a floral liberty bell from the Philadelphia group.

Eight Boys Arrested In Resort Crackdown

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — The threatened crackdown on juvenile law breakers at this ocean resort began over the weekend with the arrest of eight youngsters.

All were charged with illegal possession of alcoholic beverages, but one, Henry M. Krauss of Linwood, Pa., was acquitted in Magistrate's Court Monday.

Joseph Rogers, 16, and Elden Lehman, 17, both of Arlington, Va., were arrested Saturday night and fined the next morning.

Arrested early Sunday were Michael Hanley and Robert Cavarlo, both of Arlington, and Richard Polin of Salisbury, Krauss and Philip Profit, also of Linwood, Pa., and Richard Clay of McKeesport, Pa., were arrested Sunday night.

Fines totaling $152.50 were imposed on each youth.

Mayor Hugh Cropper Jr. announced last month that one of his principal objectives during the summer tourist season would be to crackdown on rowdyism and juvenile law breakers.

Patuxent Inmate Shot Trying Escape

JESSUP, Md. (AP)—A 19-year-old inmate of the Patuxent Institution was shot in the legs by a guard as he attempted to escape over a high barbed wire fence Monday.

Charles F. Petrillo of Hillside, Md., was not seriously wounded, prison officials said.

After he was apprehended, Petrillo tried to break away from the guards but was quickly subdued. An unidentified inmate reportedly tried to break out with Petrillo but halted when confronted by guards.

Prison officials said Petrillo was one of the 34 inmates who made a mass break from the institution for juvenile offenders last month.

The Bermuda cedar actually is a juniper of a type found nowhere else in the world.

Starkweather Turned Down By High Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Supreme Court refused Monday to review the case of Charles R. Starkweather, Nebraska's youthful mass murderer.

In Nebraska, authorities moved immediately to set a new execution date for the 20-year-old killer of 11 persons, while in Washington his attorneys mapped new plans to keep him alive.

The Supreme Court, acting swiftly on a petition for review filed only last week, denied it without comment.

Starkweather has had four stays of execution since his conviction in May, 1958, for one of the 11 slayings to which he confessed. He was not tried for the others. His 15-year-old girl friend, Caril Fugate, who accompanied him on the three-day murder spree, is serving a life sentence as an accomplice.

Despite the Supreme Court's refusal to review his case, the condemned killer said he has not given up hope.

Starkweather made the comment to deputy Nebraska Penitentiary Warden John Greenholtz in Lincoln after receiving word of the court action by radio in his cell. He had nothing else to say.

Family Slaying Probe Squad Disbanded

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special police detachment which has been working full time on the Carroll V. Jackson family murders was broken up Monday.

The five detectives who have been working full time for three months on the Louisa County, Va., case were returned to their respective squads.

Chief detective Edgar E. Scott said the move was dictated by a manpower shortage in the police department. He said it does not mean the investigation of the unsolved quadruple slayings has ended.

The squad has been meeting once a week with Maryland and Virginia police to compare notes on the case.

The bodies of Mrs. Jackson and a five-year-old daughter were found in a shallow grave near Annapolis, Md., March 21. The bodies of Jackson and an 18-month-old daughter were found buried in a sawdust pile near Fredericksburg, Va., March 5.

Fuchs' Release Believed Near

LONDON (UPI) — British security agents Monday spirited Klaus Fuchs out of Wakefield Prison and into London for the final formalities which will free the convicted atom spy and speed him behind the Iron Curtain, it was reliably reported.

Government officials refused to confirm or deny reports that Klaus, the German-born scientist who passed Western atomic secrets to Russia, had been released. In fact, home office officials all but denied that Fuchs existed.

Authorities at Wakefield Prison in Yorkshire, some 180 miles north of London, likewise refused to comment on the reports of Fuchs' release.

Farmer Dragged By Runaway Tractor

INGLESIDE, Md. (AP) — A farmer trying to climb back on his runaway tractor lost his footing and was cut and bruised by a disc and drag which ran over him Monday.

Taken to Kent-Queen Anne's Hospital in Chestertown, 15 miles northwest of here, was Edward Kane, 27. He was given surgical treatment for cuts on his face, arms and body.

The accident happened on the farm of James Emory, who lives one mile north of here. Kane was discing a 20-acre field preparatory to seeding soy beans.

A farmer passing by in a truck saw the runaway tractor and Kane lying injured behind it.

Counties List Gains In 1958 Tax Receipts

The share of state income tax received by Allegany County's commissioners and the 11 political subdivisions in the county increased sharply in the past year.

Comptroller of the Treasury Louis L. Goldstein noted that the total payments to the 12 governmental bodies during the current fiscal period which ends June 30 amounted to $354,770.

During the 1957-58 fiscal year, the total payments came to $265,076, an increase of $89.694.

This shows that during one year's time the taxable income of the residents of the county increased substantially.

In the 1956-57 year, the county board and the 11 subdivisions received $288,743.

The governmental units received no part of the one per cent additional tax that went into effect last year. The only shared in the two per cent tax that has prevailed for a number of years.

Garrett County also received more in income tax revenues. This year it amounted to $33,699 as compared to $26,317 last year, and $27,549 for 1956-57.

Council Discusses Local Street Work

Street complaints, permanent and semi-surfacing plans and the financing of repairs occupied most of yesterday's session of the Mayor and Council.

Petitions signed by residents of Avondale and Bond Streets were presented to council asking for repairs, surfacing and relief from dust conditions.

Street Commissioner John J. Long said he was acquainted with the Avondale situation and added his department is trying to do as much semi-surface and permanent work as possible with the amount of money it has.

Semi-surface is all right for some streets but not for others, he continued, then added that "We do not like oil since we consider it a waste of money." He said he would suggest that if money is available, the engineer should place Avondale on the list of streets to be semi-surfaced.

Also on the agenda for discussion, Long said, should be the streets between Frederick and Bedford Streets. He said he realized ordinances had been introduced for improving these streets and that some residents were against it. However, he said he has suggested a charter amendment for the equitable sharing of costs of street surfacing and the city should move into paving. Referring again to the opposition from some residents to paving their streets, he added he believed it is time for council to make a decision.

Mrs. Lucile Roeder, finance commissioner, questioned whether the department is doing any oiling. Long said as little as possible. He said it is hoped to do as much semi-surfacing as possible since oiling is wasted money and a semi or permanent surface is only good business.

Noting again about Long's charter amendment plan on street costs, Mrs. Roeder asked about 11 streets Long proposed for semi-surface bids on last week. Long replied that it was hoped to pay for some of them out of this year's budget.

Mrs. Roeder implied she did not agree with giving some semi-surfaced streets now, and then later under a charter amendment charging others for the same thing.

She said she was confused about last week's order on semi-surfacing the 11 streets and which she added, "had been put through hurriedly." Council still has not heard recommendations from the city engineer and Mrs. Roeder said she understood suggestions for improving the streets came from workers in the Street Department.

She said before she could vote on the bids, she would like a report from City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum on the type of street he would recommend for each; the priority in which they should be handled; whether any need to be oiled, and how many houses (either front or side) exist on each of the streets.

Concluding this phase of the discussion, Long said the department is doing its best to overcome the many complaints and problems but in the past week he had 11 men in the department on vacation. In this busy time of year, he continued, this in itself creates a manpower problem. But, personally, he said he thought the men are doing a good job and he is pleased with it.

Bond Street repairs and a bad dust condition came to light when the meeting was thrown open for public discussion. Mrs. Clarence Evans, 213 Milton Place, Mrs. Clifford Ross, 210 Milton Place, and Mrs. Thomas Walbert, 441 Bond Street, spoke in behalf of residents there.

Also heard was Thomas L. Smith of Super Concrete Company, whose heavy equipment also uses the street.

The group asked for paving from Milton Place to Valley Street in one petition and for dust control in another.

City Engineer Nuzum had read into the record a report to Long in which he said June 19 that plans drawn two years ago suggested a concrete surface because of existing conditions which would cost $18,536 or $24 a lineal foot.

Nuzum presented further evidence of traffic surveys and street usage to support his report and also the problem presented by continued use of the street by heavy vehicles.

Referring to light-surface treated streets, Nuzum said he was going to recommend that they be posted for a gross load not to exceed 6,000 pounds in order to prevent excessive damage.

"Phone us if you need us"

A girl's best friend is often her telephone—whether she's twenty-five or five.

When you're twenty-five, the mother of a five-year-old, and going out for the evening—it means a lot to know that your favorite baby sitter can call you by phone should anything unusual occur to worry her.

That silent phone says, as clearly as words, that all's well at home.

Sometimes the calls that aren't made (because they aren't needed) add as much to living as those we like to make. Perhaps that's what makes a phone worth so much more than it costs.

Council Discusses Local Street Work

Street complaints, permanent and semi-surfacing plans and the financing of repairs occupied most of yesterday's session of the Mayor and Council.

Petitions signed by residents of Avondale and Bond Streets were presented to council asking for repairs, surfacing and relief from dust conditions.

Street Commissioner John J. Long said he was acquainted with the Avondale situation and added his department is trying to do as much semi-surface and permanent work as possible with the amount of money it has.

Semi-surface is all right for some streets but not for others, he continued, then added that "We do not like oil since we consider it a waste of money." He said he would suggest that if money is available, the engineer should place Avondale on the list of streets to be semi-surfaced.

Also on the agenda for discussion, Long said, should be the streets between Frederick and Bedford Streets. He said he realized ordinances had been introduced for improving these streets and that some residents were against it. However, he said he has suggested a charter amendment for the equitable sharing of costs of street surfacing and the city should move into paving. Referring again to the opposition from some residents to paving their streets, he added he believed it is time for council to make a decision.

Mrs. Lucile Roeder, finance commissioner, questioned whether the department is doing any oiling. Long said as little as possible. He said it is hoped to do as much semi-surfacing as possible since oiling is wasted money and a semi or permanent surface is only good business.

Noting again about Long's charter amendment plan on street costs, Mrs. Roeder asked about 11 streets Long proposed for semi-surface bids on last week. Long replied that it was hoped to pay for some of them out of this year's budget.

Mrs. Roeder implied she did not agree with giving some semi-surfaced streets now, and then later under a charter amendment charging others for the same thing.

She said she was confused about last week's order on semi-surfacing the 11 streets and which she added, "had been put through hurriedly." Council still has not heard recommendations from the city engineer and Mrs. Roeder said she understood suggestions for improving the streets came from workers in the Street Department.

She said before she could vote on the bids, she would like a report from City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum on the type of street he would recommend for each; the priority in which they should be handled; whether any need to be oiled, and how many houses (either front or side) exist on each of the streets.

Concluding this phase of the discussion, Long said the department is doing its best to overcome the many complaints and problems but in the past week he had 11 men in the department on vacation. In this busy time of year, he continued, this in itself creates a manpower problem. But, personally, he said he thought the men are doing a good job and he is pleased with it.

Bond Street repairs and a bad dust condition came to light when the meeting was thrown open for public discussion. Mrs. Clarence Evans, 213 Milton Place, Mrs. Clifford Ross, 210 Milton Place, and Mrs. Thomas Walbert, 441 Bond Street, spoke in behalf of residents there.

Also heard was Thomas L. Smith of Super Concrete Company, whose heavy equipment also uses the street.

The group asked for paving from Milton Place to Valley Street in one petition and for dust control in another.

City Engineer Nuzum had read into the record a report to Long in which he said June 19 that plans drawn two years ago suggested a concrete surface because of existing conditions which would cost $18,536 or $24 a lineal foot.

Nuzum presented further evidence of traffic surveys and street usage to support his report and also the problem presented by continued use of the street by heavy vehicles.

Referring to light-surface treated streets, Nuzum said he was going to recommend that they be posted for a gross load not to exceed 6,000 pounds in order to prevent excessive damage.

"Phone us if you need us"

A girl's best friend is often her telephone—whether she's twenty-five or five.

When you're twenty-five, the mother of a five-year-old, and going out for the evening—it means a lot to know that your favorite baby sitter can call you by phone should anything unusual occur to worry her.

That silent phone says, as clearly as words, that all's well at home.

Sometimes the calls that aren't made (because they aren't needed) add as much to living as those we like to make. Perhaps that's what makes a phone worth so much more than it costs.

Cresap Society To Meet In Cumberland August 8

Gov. J. Millard Tawes, a member of the Cresap Society, will be invited by Ross F. Shaw, Oldtown, to attend the annual meeting of the society, which is to be held in Cumberland August 8.

Mr. Shaw has been officially notified by Mrs. Samuel T. Lewis, Lakewood, Ohio, president of the Cresap Society, that the meeting will be held in the Allegany County Historical Society building, 218 Washington Street, August 8.

The business session will be at 9 a. m. There will be guest speakers at the luncheon and the business sessions will be resumed in the afternoon. It is the first time the society has met in Cumberland in nine years.

Composed of descendants of Col. Thomas Cresap, who settled in Oldtown in 1742, the Cresap Society has members residing in almost every state in the union.

Gold Star Mothers Name Delegates, Plan Picnic

Delegates to the National convention were appointed and two service certificates received at the meeting of the Tri-State Chapter, American Gold Star Mothers.

Mrs. Anona McDonald, president, will represent the chapter. Mrs. Virginia Murphy and Mrs. Bessie Hensel are the delegates. They leave tomorrow noon for Dallas, Texas. The convention will be held there June 26 to July 1.

The chapter received a special service certificate for its care and welfare of hospitalized veterans in the VAVF, from Mrs. Maude E. Fry, national president; and the second was sent to the chapter by the Department of Maryland and Delaware, which received it from Sumner D. Whittier, head of the VA.

August 19 was selected as the date for the annual picnic. It will be held in Constitution Park, the grove and time to be announced later.

Business meetings will be resumed September 16.

Concluding the evening a social hour was held and refreshments were served.

Jr. Campers Band 200 Birds

Over 200 birds of 39 different species were banded during the Junior Conservation and Nature Camp, held last week at Pleasant Valley, Edgar Reynolds, president of the Allegany County Bird Club, sponsor of the camp, said last evening. Among the birds banded was a purple finch, which "is unusual in this area, at this time."

There were 103 campers and 20 adult leaders this year, with Miss Nan Livingstone, director. Later in the summer, she will meet with the councilors to formulate plans for next year's camp.

Approximately 50 adults, including newcomers from the Eastern Shore attended the Allegany County Bird Club adult weekend camp, preceding the junior camp. The most unusual bird reported was the great blue heron, rarely seen in this area; the "redheaded woodpecker and the pileated woodpecker, both rather rare here recently."

A used clothing drive will be conducted by the intermediate class of Cresaptown vacation Bible school, from 1 until 4 tomorrow, for the Church World Service. All kinds of clothing, blankets and shoes are needed. Residents are asked to have their contributions ready when members in cars visit the homes.

Service pins will be awarded at the meeting of the VFW Auxiliary tonight.

State Parks In Area Attract Many Visitors

State parks and forests in Allegany and Garrett counties attracted 485,000 visitors last year, which was a big increase over the previous year.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said the majority of the visitors were to state forests and parks in Garrett County as there are more camping facilities in that county.

Largest number of visitors was listed for New Germany in the Grantsville area which attracted 150,000 persons. Many of these were 4-H Club members. There are a number of cabins for rent and a lake for boating, swimming and fishing in the area.

Next largest number to be listed was at Herrington Manor, near Oakland, where there is a lake and cabins for summer campers. A total of 125,000 visited this establishment. Garrett areas which attracted visitors also included Swallow Falls, 45,000 persons; Savage River State Forest, 70,000 persons and Potomac State Forest, 5,000 persons.

Green Ridge State Forest, east of Cumberland, had 80,000 visitors. Most of these were hunters who sought deer, wild turkeys and other wildlife during the season last fall. Hundreds of hunters from the Baltimore and Washington metropolitan areas trek to the Green Ridge area during the season.

Dan's Mountain Park, near Lonaconing, attracted 10,000 persons during the past year. This is a favorite recreation area for residents along Georges Creek Valley.

The State Department of Forests and Parks listed 5,744,101 visitors in the various parks and forests during the year. This was an increase of 1,750,000 persons over 1957. The parks attracted 5,160,642 and the forests, 583,459.

Most of the visitors were Maryland residents, who made one or more trips to either parks or forests, but tourists from all other states joined with Marylander's in swelling the throng.

Campers, though not the largest numerical group, showed the most noticable increase in numbers, especially during the summer months. Total campers numbered 180,176: use being 28,935 in State Forests and 151,241 in the state parks. On several occasions, State parks were able to handle the camping demand only by temporarily diverting campers to playfields or picnic areas. In a few cases where present facilities permitted no other course, campers had to be turned away.

Another increase was noted at water areas, especially among the "touring" boat lovers, automobile travelers who trail or tote their boats on car tops, looking for a favorable spot to "put the boat over and try the local water."

July was the most popular month accounting for 146,774 State Forest visitors and 987,462 State Park visitors—a total of 1,134,236. June and August were only slightly behind these figures. February was the least popular month, with a total of only 47,456. The fall hunting months—October, November, De- 113,120 visitors, to State forests alone.

Council Sets Policy On New City Worker

The status of a probationary member of a city department who asks for leave to receive military training was clarified yesterday by the Mayor and Council.

John E. Yost, a probationary member of the Fire Department, and Roy C. Hawse a member of the Police Department, are to attend field training with the Headquarters Company, 1st Medium Tank Battalion of the 11th National Guard unit here July 24 to August 8.

Hawse's leave was granted.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming said he had asked for a legal opinion from City Attorney William R. Carscaden in the case of probationer Yost. His opinion, Fleming said, was that a probationer is not entitled to pay while on leave for such military training.

Carscaden further amplified the opinion He said if a probationer leaves employment with the city for any reason, it is the same as a resignation. This does not apply to a permanent employe who is covered by Civil Service regulations, he added.

The council then approved Yost's leave with the understanding that if he takes the leave he could lose his position.

Yesterday's meeting of the council was presided over by Commissioner G. Ray Light who was designated by Mayor J. Edwin Keech to act in his absence because of a trip to Florida for business reasons.

Light as water commissioner was authorized to advertise for bids on an addressograph machine and graph-o-type machine or their equal for his department.

Street Commissioner John J. Long was authorized to advertise for bids on a half ton pickup truck for the sewage treatment plant. A previous order for a car has been cancelled on suggestion of Sanitary Engineer Franklin J. Blaney. Blaney explained that a car used by the sewage treatment department for both hauling and passengers would be better employed for personal transportation and that a truck would better serve the purpose and be less expensive.

Long also was authorized to transfer funds from one account to another. To be transferred are $5,000 from Street cleaning, $300 from City Hall and $500 from Constitution Park appropriations to garbage collection, $5,000; parks, $500 and City Hall annex, $300. Long said the trnasfer to the garbage account would be almost enough to pay for repairs to a tractor used at the city dump on Oldtown Road.

Council ordered payment of $6,355.50 to Hout Construction Company for grading and surfacing of tennis courts in Constitution Park.

Local Youth Gets Hearing In Theft From Woman

Earl Richard Nixon Jr., of 916 Gay Street, went on trial yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court on a charge of burglary.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris, who presided, deferred sentencing the youth pending a report from David Steele, probation officer.

Nixon, who was represented by Estel C. Kelley, court appointed attorney, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of burglary at the home of Mrs. Mary A. Hamill, 83, of 910 Gay Street, on the night of June 3.

Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, informed the court that Nixon and two other youths entered Mrs. Hamill's home, forced open a bureau drawer and stole $8 in dimes and personal papers.

Mason pointed out that Mrs. Hamill is deaf and blind and was asleep at the time of the breaking and entering. The attorney noted that after taking the money and papers, the three youths divided the money and threw away the papers which were later recovered by City Police.

The state's attorney's office also noted that a 16-year-old youth was tried two weeks ago in connection with the case and sentence was deferred by the Juvenile Magistrate. The third youth, Mason said, is still at large.

Spies Indicted

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — Eight members of a Communist espionage ring which allegedly smuggled American radar parts to North Korea through Japan have been indicted on treason charges, the Seoul district procurator's office announced Monday.

The ringleader of the group, Woo Han Yong, was arrested last May while trying to return to Tokyo from Korea with a list of radar parts and installations in the Republic of South Korea. Five South Korean servicemen face military trials on charges of helping Woo.

Traps is the generic term applied to the cocoanut shells, rattles, tin whistles and other noise making implements used by a drummer in a jazz orchestra.

Sheriffs To Meet Here

The next meeting of the Maryland Sheriff Association will be held in Cumberland during September.

The association held its quarterly meeting over the weekend in Cambridge with two representatives of Allegany County attending — Deputies Edgar M. Lewis and Louis T. Helman.

During Friday's meeting the association passed a resolution favoring a standard salary scale for sheriffs in Maryland, with the salary being based on population.

Under the proposal, which will be presented to the Legislature Council, the maximum salary for a sheriff would be $10,000.

Most of the typhoons that lash the coasts of Korea and Japan in late summer and early fall originate in the China sea east of Formosa.

Ordinary goldfish live about 50 years, while fancy ones, like the fringe-tail, live about seven years.

Tires The Imagination

BERLIN (UPI) — East Germany's Communist regime ruled Monday that "hula-hoop" is a reactionary expression and should not be used.

"In order to speak good German in the future, the foreign expression 'hula hoop' should now be changed to gymnastic tires," announced the party newspaper Saechsische zeitung.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	2 ♥
2 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♥.

A substantial swing resulted on today's hand taken from an important team-of-four match, when one declarer was temporarily afflicted with a blind spot.

At both tables, North and South glided into the natural game contract of four spades. West's overcall was not the most sturdy, but vulnerability conditions made it something of a reasonable effort. North offered a free raise and South proceeded directly to game.

West opened the queen of hearts and the hand appeared to offer no challenge. One declarer won and extracted trumps fully relaxed in the belief that West, in view of his overcall at the two level, held the pivotal king of clubs. When East rudely showed up with that card, the return of the queen of diamonds produced three more defensive tricks and set the contract down to the tune of 100 points.

At the other table, declarer, leaving nothing to chance, played the hand in such a manner as to assure fulfillment regardless of the location of the adverse high card strength. He ducked the opening lead and in so doing completely disarmed the defenders. A heart was continued and declarer won and cashed two trumps retaining the lead in dummy. Then came the third round of hearts upon which South discarded a club. He followed up with the ace of clubs and the jack. East did not cover, but South parted with a diamond.

If West should show up with the king of clubs he was welcome to it for he could do no more than cash the ace of diamonds. When the jack of clubs held the contest was over.

True enough, this maneuver might have cost declarer a few points by way of an overtrick if West held the lightly guarded king of clubs, but it was a small price to pay for complete assurance of the contract.

Sheriffs To Meet Here

The next meeting of the Maryland Sheriff Association will be held in Cumberland during September.

The association held its quarterly meeting over the weekend in Cambridge with two representatives of Allegany County attending — Deputies Edgar M. Lewis and Louis T. Helman.

During Friday's meeting the association passed a resolution favoring a standard salary scale for sheriffs in Maryland, with the salary being based on population.

Under the proposal, which will be presented to the Legislature Council, the maximum salary for a sheriff would be $10,000.

Most of the typhoons that lash the coasts of Korea and Japan in late summer and early fall originate in the China sea east of Formosa.

Ordinary goldfish live about 50 years, while fancy ones, like the fringe-tail, live about seven years.

Tires The Imagination

BERLIN (UPI) — East Germany's Communist regime ruled Monday that "hula-hoop" is a reactionary expression and should not be used.

"In order to speak good German in the future, the foreign expression 'hula hoop' should now be changed to gymnastic tires," announced the party newspaper Saechsische zeitung.

Court Grants Keyser Doctor New Trial

Technicality Favors Defense

KEYSER—Dr. William A. Flick, local physician, has been granted a new trial by virtue of an opinion handed down by Judge Ernest A. See.

The 75-year-old practitioner was found guilty of a narcotics law violation by a jury in Mineral county circuit court last May 13 after being indicted for writing one prescription for dilaudid for John Pollock, 42, of Clarksburg, who is presently serving a term in the West Virginia penitentiary for narcotics law violations.

Following the original verdict, which carries a two to five year sentence in the penitentiary and up to $1,000 fine, defense attorneys immediately moved for an arrest of judgment and asked Judge See to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial. Dr. Flick's counsel consists of Attorneys H. G. Shores, Howard P. Shores and H. R. Athey.

Gives Opinion

Judge See, in an opinion in the case, said "the court has concluded to grant a new trial solely for the reason that the judge of the court left his chambers, returned to the court room, instructed the jury concerning the adjournment and excused the jury until the following day. Dr. Flick, his counsel, the prosecuting attorney and court stenographer remained in the chambers of the judge while this was being done." All of this had been pointed out earlier by defense attorneys when they moved for a new trial.

West Virginia law states that "a person indicted for a felony shall be personally present during the trial thereof." This means that the accused must be present in person when any step affecting him is taken from arraignment to final judgment inclusive, and that the record must show the presence of the accused.

Suggestion Made

The other ground of the motion for a new trial, that there was no evidence of "bad faith" on the part of the accused, was overruled. "The question of intent, good or bad faith, is one that is always difficult to establish," the judge said. "No one can be absolutely certain what some other person has in his or her mind. The most we can form is a conclusion or judgment based upon what that other person did or said."

Judge See pointed out that even other doctors in the city varied in their opinion on the case and he cited several personal instances in which the use of a narcotic was necessary. He said "it is our feeling that under all the circumstances of the case that the jury had a right to determine whether or not Dr. Flick acted in good faith."

The judge suggested that an order, including his opinion on the motion, be prepared at the next regular term of court.

Historical Society Will Elect Thursday

Bus Service Seeks Franklin Maryland Run

Application Is Filed With ICC

The operator of the Superior Bus Service of Harrisonburg, Va., announced yesterday he is planning to file an application with the Interstate Commerce Commission for a temporary permit to operate a bus service between Franklin and Cumberland.

For the past two weeks, a group of Moorefield and Petersburg residents has been chartering buses from the firm for shopping trips to Cumberland.

Lists Schedule

The charter service from Franklin to Cumberland will operate again Thursday. The schedule, all on Eastern Standard Times, will be as follows:

Franklin, 7:45 a. m.; Petersburg, 8:30 a. m.; Moorefield, 9 a. m.; Romney, 10 a. m.; Springfield, 10:10 a. m. and Fort Ashby, 10;20 a. m.

The valley has been without bus service for a number of years and persons not owning cars have had to depend on friends or relatives in order to get to Cumberland.

Interest was shown in renewing bus service when a group of women residing in Petersburg and Moorefield contacted the Harrisonburg firm for trips into Cumberland.

60 Or 90-Day Trial

Merle Martin, operator of the bus company, said he will file for a temporary permit with the ICC, allowing for a 60 or 90-day test period.

Then, during that time he would find the type and size of vehicle that would suit the volume of passengers.

Martin is considering a number of plans. This would include the possibility of a round trip once each week, or a weekend proposition, with round trips on Fridays and Mondays.

Ella Bergdoll Attending Conference For Educators

MOOREFIELD—Miss Ella Bergdoll, of Moorefield, president of West Virginia State Classroom Teachers Association, from Moorefield, West Virginia will leave today for the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kan., where she will attend the National Teacher Education Professional Standards Conference.

On Saturday she will go to St. Louis, Mo. to be one of 5,000 official delegates to the NEA Representative Assembly, governing body for the world's largest professional organization. Altogether, 10,000 persons are expected to attend the convention participating in six days of discussions, speeches and meetings centering on the 1959 convention theme—"Quality in Education."

Miss Bergdoll will be a group leader for a discussion on curriculum planning on Wednesday afternoon.

She will also expect to attend several meetings of the West Virginia Association, meeting for breakfast several days during the convention, will hold a business session to discuss NEA resolutions and other actions of the assembly.

Following the convention she will attend the Classroom Teachers National Conference at Illinois State Normal University, Normal, Illinois from July 5-16, acting as recorder for a panel discussion on "What is a Good State DCT Program?"

Court Grants Keyser Doctor New Trial

Technicality Favors Defense

KEYSER—Dr. William A. Flick, local physician, has been granted a new trial by virtue of an opinion handed down by Judge Ernest A. See.

The 75-year-old practitioner was found guilty of a narcotics law violation by a jury in Mineral county circuit court last May 13 after being indicted for writing one prescription for dilaudid for John Pollock, 42, of Clarksburg, who is presently serving a term in the West Virginia penitentiary for narcotics law violations.

Following the original verdict, which carries a two to five year sentence in the penitentiary and up to $1,000 fine, defense attorneys immediately moved for an arrest of judgment and asked Judge See to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial. Dr. Flick's counsel consists of Attorneys H. G. Shores, Howard P. Shores and H. R. Athey.

Gives Opinion

Judge See, in an opinion in the case, said "the court has concluded to grant a new trial solely for the reason that the judge of the court left his chambers, returned to the court room, instructed the jury concerning the adjournment and excused the jury until the following day. Dr. Flick, his counsel, the prosecuting attorney and court stenographer remained in the chambers of the judge while this was being done." All of this had been pointed out earlier by defense attorneys when they moved for a new trial.

West Virginia law states that "a person indicted for a felony shall be personally present during the trial thereof." This means that the accused must be present in person when any step affecting him is taken from arraignment to final judgment inclusive, and that the record must show the presence of the accused.

Suggestion Made

The other ground of the motion for a new trial, that there was no evidence of "bad faith" on the part of the accused, was overruled. "The question of intent, good or bad faith, is one that is always difficult to establish," the judge said. "No one can be absolutely certain what some other person has in his or her mind. The most we can form is a conclusion or judgment based upon what that other person did or said."

Judge See pointed out that even other doctors in the city varied in their opinion on the case and he cited several personal instances in which the use of a narcotic was necessary. He said "it is our feeling that under all the circumstances of the case that the jury had a right to determine whether or not Dr. Flick acted in good faith."

The judge suggested that an order, including his opinion on the motion, be prepared at the next regular term of court.

Historical Society Will Elect Thursday

OAKLAND — Frank W. Peters, owner of the Peters Fuel Corporation which distributes petroleum products in three states, will speak at the annual dinner meeting of the Garrett County Historical Society Thursday at 6:30 p. m. in the William-James Hotel.

Mrs. W. W. Grant, president of the society, will be in charge of the program. At a brief business session there will be an election of officers.

Bus Service Seeks Franklin Maryland Run

Application Is Filed With ICC

The operator of the Superior Bus Service of Harrisonburg, Va., announced yesterday he is planning to file an application with the Interstate Commerce Commission for a temporary permit to operate a bus service between Franklin and Cumberland.

For the past two weeks, a group of Moorefield and Petersburg residents has been chartering buses from the firm for shopping trips to Cumberland.

Lists Schedule

The charter service from Franklin to Cumberland will operate again Thursday. The schedule, all on Eastern Standard Times, will be as follows:

Franklin, 7:45 a. m.; Petersburg, 8:30 a. m.; Moorefield, 9 a. m.; Romney, 10 a. m.; Springfield, 10:10 a. m. and Fort Ashby, 10;20 a. m.

The valley has been without bus service for a number of years and persons not owning cars have had to depend on friends or relatives in order to get to Cumberland.

Interest was shown in renewing bus service when a group of women residing in Petersburg and Moorefield contacted the Harrisonburg firm for trips into Cumberland.

60 Or 90-Day Trial

Merle Martin, operator of the bus company, said he will file for a temporary permit with the ICC, allowing for a 60 or 90-day test period.

Then, during that time he would find the type and size of vehicle that would suit the volume of passengers.

Martin is considering a number of plans. This would include the possibility of a round trip once each week, or a weekend proposition, with round trips on Fridays and Mondays.

Winners Listed

MT. SAVAGE—St. Ann's Chapter of St. George's Episcopal Church held a public card party recently in the parish house.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Thomas Adams, Mrs. Freda McKenzie, Mrs. Margaret Kane, Ralph Lashley, John Ruppenkamp and Joseph Malloy. A special prize was awarded to Mrs. Belva Miller.

Revolt Among The Whalers

Amid mutterings of revolt from its most active members, the International Whaling Commission is meeting in London this week to carry out its annual task of setting a limit on the catch in the Antarctic. Norway, Japan and the Netherlands have already said they will withdraw from the 1930 whaling pact unless the other parties agree to substitute a system of national quotas for the present overall ceiling.

Nearly all whaling in the Antarctic is done by fleets of catchers serving huge, efficient, phenomenally expensive factory ships. Norway, Japan and the Netherlands among them operate 15 of the 19 factory ships active in the Antarctic last season. The British operate three, the Russians one.

The 12 other parties to the pact—Australia, Brazil, Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Mexico, New Zealand, Panama, Sweden, South Africa, the U. S.—don't work the Antarctic at all. In fact, Mexico and Panama don't even have a whaling industry. And there's the rub.

The U. S., for example, is represented on the commission by Dr. Remington Kellogg of the Smithsonian Institution. His interest is scientific rather than commercial. The U. S. and most of the other relatively inactive nations are concerned primarily with conservation of the fast-dwindling blue whale population.

Under the existing setup, the annual catch is limited to 15,000 blue whale units. A unit consists of one blue or two finbacks or 2.5 humpbacks or six Sei whales. In the rush to get as large a share as possible of the overall limit, the catchers often are forced to give up on the prized but elusive blue. With a fixed quota to kill, they could afford to give chase.

These Days

Mr. Justice Frankfurter

Whenever a Supreme Court decision comes down these days, the question arises: Where does Frankfurter stand? The Court is evenly divided 4-4 with Justice Frankfurter really in the deciding position. The division is not between Conservatives and Liberals, as is so often suggested, but between Lawyers and Sociologists, which makes such a great difference.

The four Sociologists are the Chief Justice, Earl Warren, and Justices Black, Douglas and Brennan. They apply a doctrinaire attitude toward the law which is not the law at all but which arises out of their social consciousness, whatever that may be. The Lawyers, Justices Clark, Harlan, Whittaker and Stewart, feel that it is the function of the Congress to legislate; that it is the function of the Supreme Court to adjudicate cases that come before the Court, not to make the law but to interpret it, to give it meaning.

In a series of what have come to be called the Communist Cases, the Supreme Court broke down many of the acts passed by Congress governing subversive matters. This was particularly true in the Watkins Case, the Jencks Case, the Sweezy Case and altogether 24 cases in which a committee of the American Bar Association called attention in a special report.

Now before the Supreme Court came two new cases, Barenblatt v. United States and Uphaus v. Wyman. The Barenblatt Case is particularly significant. Lloyd Barenblatt had been a psychology professor at Vassar. He had been identified by a witness before the House Committee on Un-American Activities as having been a member of a Communist group at the University of Michigan between 1947 and 1950. What a Communist group is, I do not know. Usually such groups or associations are related to the Communist Party.

Barenblatt did not deny the accusation nor did he plead the Fifth Amendment. He refused to answer questions put to him and was therefore held in contempt.

In his case before the courts, Barenblatt argued that his rights under the First Amendment were infringed, that the Committee's powers were vaguely stated and that a Congressional committee had no right to question his beliefs.

Barenblatt lost his case before the Supreme Court of the United States because on a question of law, Frankfurter voted with the Lawyers. Similarly in the Uphaus Case, Frankfurter voted with the Lawyers.

Justice Frankfurter is essentially a lawyer, a teacher of law in the most distinguished law school in the United States. It is true that those of us who are conservative read into his opinions a growing conservatism. That is perhaps an exaggeration of the fact, which is that Justice Frankfurter respects the law, respects due process, and believes in our tripartite form of government. Long before he became a Justice of the United States Supreme Court, he wrote defending the investigative function of Congressional committees. As a liberal and a teacher of the law, he respected the right of Congress to obtain information concerning the United States. As a lawyer, he has sought a realistic and logical interpretation of the law.

Justice Frankfurter has been depicted by many conservatives as a radical, a Communist, all sorts of things. Yet, in his decisions nothing ever appears to justify such epithets. He is, in the present Court, perhaps the most rigid adherent of constitutional and congressional government. His vote in the Barenblatt Case definitely puts him in on the side of the law and the acts of Congress. He removed himself from those of his brethren who prefer to use the Court as an extra-legislative agency, a legislative body which applies sociological rather than legalistic standards.

Should the Court continue to have a series of 5-4 decisions, Frankfurter's position becomes pivotal for another reason. He is 76 years old. For several years, it has been expected that he would resign. He has not resigned, perhaps because he is not happy with some appointments that have recently been made to the Supreme Court Bench and he might even suspect who his successor might be. Nothing can be done to force him to resign. By remaining on the Bench, he may save the Court from whimsical sociological decisions unrelated to the law. However, while he is on the Bench he is not likely to be swayed by men whom he must regard as lesser lawyers.

Backstage Drama In Senate: Jet Planes, Deals, And A Lost Temper

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Drama such as the Senate seldom sees took place behind the scenes when the world's No. 1 deliberative body finally refused confirmation of a Cabinet member for one of the few times in history. Seldom does the public get any sense of this drama. They see the Senators debate on the floor. They feel the tenseness of the voting. But not even the press is permitted in Senate cloakrooms. However, here is what happened backstage as the Senate voted on Lewis L. Strauss as Secretary of Commerce.

Republican leaders were huddling with GOP leader Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois. They had three absentee senators, whose votes they badly needed. One of them, Thruston Morton of Kentucky, could get back to vote by commercial plane. The others, Wallace Bennett of Utah and Milton Young of North Dakota, could not — except by military jet.

A call was made to the White House. Gen. Jerry Persons, who replaced Sherman Adams as assistant President, was asked to rush two Air Force jets to the rescue. Persons demurred. He said there were only two in the country.

Unbeknownst to the others, Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire walked into another office, picked up the phone and called Admiral Strauss.

"Do you want to be confirmed?" he asked. "If so, you'd better call the White House and put the heat on them for two jets."

Strauss did. The two jets, one a tanker, the other a jet trainer, brought Bennett and Young to Washington — at the taxpayers' expense.

Republican Filibuster

As early as June 12, Sen. Lyndon Johnson had asked for unanimous consent for a Senate vote. He kept repeating the request. On one occasion, Sen. Wayne Morse, Democrat of Oregon, objected, said he wanted to speak at length.

Finally, Johnson called Morse aside. "Let's let the Republicans do the objecting," he advised. "They aren't ready for a vote; and they want to put the excuse on you."

"All right," replied Morse "I'll stay off the floor, or stay on the floor, or do whatever you say."

Johnson then asked unanimous consent to vote after eight hours of debate, devided equally. Republicans looked hopefully at Morse, but he made no objection. Reluctantly GOP leader Dirksen rose. "I am afraid I must object," he said.

It was after this that Republicans frantically called the White House to get jet planes to bring in their absent Senators.

During the night debate which followed, Vice President Nixon was huddling backstage trying to change some votes. Presiding over the Senate in his place was Sen. Bob Bartlett, Alaska Democrat. Suddenly Nixon instructed Sen. Andy Schoeppel, Kansas Republican, to order Bartlett out of the chair and take over himself.

What Nixon feared was a motion by Senator Johnson to table the Strauss appointment. This could not be debated. It would mean an immediate vote with three GOP Senators absent. So Nixon wanted a Republican presiding over the Senate, not a Democrat who might rule favorably to Johnson.

Johnson Gives A Vote

Johnson, however, had no real intention of calling for a vote to table the Strauss nomination. Privately he told Dirksen:

"I'm not going to rule out a motion to table," he said, "but I'll give you my word that you'll get plenty of advance notice if I do."

"That's fair enough," Dirksen replied. He urged, however, that the vote go over until the next day.

"No," replied Johnson. "You've been yelling for a vote. And we're going to vote tonight. I've been accused of harassing and persecuting this man. I've been trying to get a vote for a week and we'll get one tonight. You say your last Senator, Milt Young, will be here at 3:30 a. m. We'll wait for him and then vote."

Sen. Tom Kuchel of California, the Republican whip, came over to the desk of Sen. Clint Anderson of New Mexico who had been master-minding Democratic strategy. "How do you see it?" he asked.

"As I see it," replied Anderson, "Lyndon Johnson has put you in one heck of a box. Here is the great liberal, Senator Javits of New York, who crusaded against filibusters, now filibustering. Here is Goldwater filibustering. If you Republicans want to filibuster for two or three days you've set a pattern for us and we can continue. If you don't want to vote now on your man, we can hold up the vote indefinitely."

Actully, Dirksen knew the Republicans didn't have the votes even with all three absentees present. He was stalling for time. The Johnson forces thought they had the votes, but weren't quite sure. Inside a room just off the Senate, Harry Byrd of Virginia, Jim Eastland of Mississippi, and Bob Kerr of Oklahoma, all Democrats, were sitting over their bourbon, masterminding strategy for the Strauss Republicans.

Goldwater Explodes

A Senate functionary who had been with them finally brought out the word. "They've only got 48 votes, and they're counting on Muskie (Maine) and Williams (N. J.)."

The Johnson forces knew these two Democratic Senators had been wavering but had finally made up their minds to vote against Strauss. That made 46 votes for Strauss, even after Young of North Dakota returned. So with Young still flying toward Washington, Johnson approached Dirksen and offered to give the Republicans one pro-Strauss Democratic vote. That was why Mansfield of Montana, who was present, paired with the absent Young.

The vote was called. Nixon was in the chair ready to break a tie. But there was no tie. It came out as anti-Strauss forces expected—49 to 46 against him.

Sen. Barry Goldwater was livid with rage. Jumping to his feet he approached Sen. George Smathers of Florida, Democrat, who had voted against Strauss. Without saying a word Goldwater rushed Smathers, his fists out. Smathers, who is lean and athletic, turned the Arizona Senator aside with his shoulder as a football runner turns off a tackler.

"What's the matter with you?" he asked. "Do you want to step outside?"

Senator Goldwater apparently had expected Smathers to vote for Strauss, and was so wrought up he lost control of himself. He turned and left the Senate floor.

Decisions In Next Three Weeks May Bring On War

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—If there is a war in the not far distant future—and it doesn't have to be a nuclear war either — decisions made in the next three weeks can bring it on.

The coming three weeks before the Foreign Ministers Conference is resumed can be crucial. Mistaken attitudes of appeasement could prove more dangerous today than similar policies appeared to be at the time of the 1938 "summit" conference at Munich which preceded by a year the outbreak of World War II.

Few persons, generally speaking, realize the gravity of the situation. They look at the outward signs of peace and view with indifference the negotiations that have been going on for six weeks at Geneva between the East and West. Why should there be war, they ask, when neither side wants it? Then comes the usual argument about how terrible a nuclear war would be and how both sides would be devastated. Most people thereupon dismiss the subject as academic.

What is not generally considered is that a non-nuclear war can come as readily today as it did in Europe in 1939 or in Korea in 1950. It can come again as a result of the same kind of bluffing tactics which are being engaged in today. Sooner or later someone takes a chance and assumes the other fellow will not fight. Then war comes. In three major instances in this century it has been based on a miscalculation of the strength and possible reaction of the democracies of the West to an act of aggression.

Why should Moscow miscalculate? For one thing the West gives the appearance of disunity and of military unpreparedness. The West is strong enough to fight a nuclear war but the Soviets may have their doubts whether, when the chips are down, any nuclear weapons would be used by either side. Military men of the West have built their entire defense plan on the theory that atomic bombs would certainly be used. But just as both sides refrained from poison gas in the last war, so it is possible that because of world opinion nuclear weapons would be abandoned.

The kind of war that could readily happen is called "conventional" because it involves only land armies and the type of bombs that were dropped from military aircraft in the Korean war between 1950 and 1953. While this was a "conventional" war, there were at least 1,000,000 men engaged in it at its peak. The Communists are aware that the West is weak in "conventional" armament.

What would be the main basis, however, for the Soviet miscalculation that could bring on a war? The Geneva Conference, for one thing, has not convinced the Soviet government that the allies are united. There is a strong belief in Moscow that Britain will not stand with America and France on a platform of resoluteness. The Soviets already have miscontrued British Prime Minister Macmillan's eagerness to negotiate as a sign of weakness or timidity. Again and again press reports in the West have said that the British want a "summit" conference at any cost and that it doesn't matter whether any concessions have been made in advance by the Soviets. It is true that the British prime minister doesn't want to leave any stone unturned to negotiate peace, but he is neither a Chamberlain nor a Baldwin. Furthermore, he knows America and how it reacts to threats and ultimatums such as the Soviets have been issuing.

The men in the Kremlin could make no greater mistake than to assume that Britain at the showdown stage will fail her allies or will adopt a weaker position toward the Soviet Union than do the other partners in the Western alliance.

But the big problem of the moment is to make clear to the world that the Western countries are united. It will take more than mere words to do it. For one thing the British Labor Party in England and the Democratic Party in the United States will each have to make a dramatic demonstration of faith and confidence in its own government's policies. More will be required than just proclamations of high purpose and unity. The West will have to tell the Soviets that, much as war is deplored, there may come a time when resistance will become inevitable and that the Kremlin should not play with fire and take risks.

Accidents can happen in moments of international tension and it is significant that only last week when Communist planes attacked an American plane in the Far East widespread demands arose that the fire should be returned if any such incidents happen again. That's only another way of saying that America has not become pacifist minded and will not accept any encroachment on her rights.

In the next three weeks the Western allies have an opportunity to issue an unequivocal warning. There may be some merit in wanting to keep on talking to the Soviet Union in more conferences but there is danger in giving the impression that the West is afraid. The battle of the next three weeks is psychological. If Moscow gets the impression that the West is in an appeasing mood and is timid, then war by accident or design may be the tragic outcome. By firmness in the next three weeks the West may avert a war.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

The General Accounting Office, which has the power to audit federal departments' spending, has been making headlines recently in a series of reports showing huge amounts of excess spending, mostly in the defense procurement program.

The GAO, unlike other federal agencies, is a part of the Congressional branch of government, not the Executive branch. In this role, it takes its instructions from Congress and reports directly to it.

In recent weeks it has reported numerous cases of excessive spending, mounting into the millions. It has criticized both the government agencies and the manufacturers and subcontractors involved in making loose estimates of costs.

There is a good chance that GAO's exposures will result in new and much tighter federal contract regulations in the next session of Congress. Some officials in the Executive branch fear that Congress might get too tough with the result that manufacturers will shy away from seeking defense contracts.

No Peace, No War

By Leslie Gould

(In this last in a series on his observations of the Russian economy on a just completed trip to the land of the Soviet, Leslie Gould predicts no war, but no peace in the years ahead of "peaceful competition.")

No peace. No war.

That about sums up the world picture for today and tomorrow.

Nikita Khrushchev says:

"We offer the capitalist countries peaceful competition . . ."

In the next breath he adds:

"At present there are Communists and Workers' Parties in 83 countries. Their membership adds up to more than 33 million people."

The Soviets have one, unchanging goal — destruction of the U.S. as a world power and eventual take over by Communism.

There can never be such a thing as peaceful competition, for every move of the Soviet has the one ultimate purpose — final victory of Communism. It is an international subversive movement, headquartered in Moscow.

The hard core of these organizations operating in practically every country of the world have their secret connections with Moscow.

Allen Dulles, head of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, sums it up well when he says:

"Those who feel we can buy peace by compromise with Khrushchev are sadly deluded. Each concession we give him merely strengthens his position and prestige and ability of the Soviet regime to continue its domination of the Russian people whose friendship we seek."

Khrushchev confirms this, when he says:

"The Soviet Union is always ready to end every war, except of course, the class war."

And this to a group of foreign diplomats:

"My little doves, you must all become Communists, and we shall help you on your way."

And to an American group:

"Your grandchildren will live under Communism."

The Communists firmly believe that the seeds of their kind of class revolution are firmly planted in every capitalist country and that eventually Communism will take over. They also know that if there were to be a war, the risks are high for their destruction.

So, with time — as they see — on their side, why risk a war?

Nevertheless, being realists they know they must continue to build up their military strength to maintain a balance of power.

There will be no war, in this observer's opinion, as long as the Western world takes the same realistic view and maintains the balance of power.

The Russians have one fear, and this is expressed time and again in Khrushchev's speeches. This is of a rearmed West Germany. The British share this fear, and this explains in part the eagerness of Great Britain to expand its trade with Russia.

The Soviet also have some uneasiness about the partner to the East — Red China. There is historical justification for this.

As long as the West stays strong militarily so that there is a true balance of power — war is unlikely.

Again to quote Khrushchev:

"We are confident of the final victory of Communism. For this victory—we do not need war, peaceful competition will be enough."

What the Soviet mean by "peaceful competition" is something entirely different from the Western world's meaning of the words.

There is no secret about the Communist program — set one capitalist country against another, prevent a union of non-Communist nations, and stir up class conflicts within the capitalist countries. The last is being pressed today in Central and South America.

The Soviet are betting on an economic collapse in the Western world. For ten years the resiliency of the U.S. economy has been periodically disappointing to Moscow. The recessions in business have been short lived. Each setback has been followed by a renewal of the boom, as is being witnessed currently.

The West will win the "peaceful competition" war, if, as in the military field, each country, and particularly the U.S., keeps economically strong. This means balancing government budgets and balancing higher wages and shorter hours with increased productivity. Interestingly, the Russians in pressing their Seven-Year Plan are keying wage incentives to productivity.)

Poor Posture Can Cause 'Nagging Backache'

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many housewives develop low backache because of muscle fatigue resulting from poor posture. These women do heavy work in many positions but never attempt to protect the back by developing the muscles that keep the spine in normal alignment. In addition, poor posture with sway-back and protruding buttocks throws the lower spine out of kilter and overstretches the ligaments. These structures then become thin and tear easily.

Tilting of the pelvis is accentuated when the home maker leaves the kitchen and goes out. High heeled shoes force the weight of the body forward and to conpensate, the back is arched. This accentuates the sway and aggravates pelvic stress.

The importance of good posture when sitting in a chair is well known, especially by typists and stenographers. The boss is confronted with the office swivel or tilting chair that is conducive to the development of poor posture.

Men who sit continuously may develop contracted muscles on the thigh and calf of the leg. On standing, the tense muscles pull the trunk forward so that they walk with a slight stoop.

Low backache develops when the lumbosacral ligaments and muscles tighten because of the added strain of faulty posture. This is avoided when the office worker stands and stretches periodically or indulges in exercises that strengthen the muscles of the legs and back.

Obesity contributes to bad posture because the added weight of the abdomen shifts the center of gravity forward. To compensate, the upper spine is thrust further backward as occurs in pregnancy.

TOMORROW: Exercises to strengthen the back.

CRAZY CLEAN

H. W. writes: Since my hitch in the navy, where I acquired scabies and athlete's foot, I have become crazy clean. Is there any way I can cure myself of this phobia about germs?

REPLY

A psychiatrist may be helpful and is recommended especially if the phobia is interfering with your peace of mind or disrupting your work.

BE PATIENT

Mrs. D. writes: We have been married eight months and I'm not pregnant yet. Do you think my husband and I should have sterility tests made?

REPLY

Not yet. Most physicians suggest that couples wait two years before going through with these tests. There is no harm in having the examinations to satisfy your curiosity. Your husband should be tested first.

FLUIDS WITH MEALS

W. P. writes: Will drinking liquids with meals thwart the process of digestion?

REPLY

No. Some of the liquid adds to the fluid content of the stomach, but the dilution is not great enough to weaken the digestive enzymes and the acid. The rest of the fluid may adhere to the top of the stomach and flow directly into the intestine without mixing with the food in the stomach.

LARGE NOSTRILS

C. D. writes: Is it possible to decrease the size of the openings of the nostrils in any way except by surgery?

REPLY

No. Let well enough alone.

PERSPIRING FEET

F. T. writes: Is X-ray treatment good for sweating feet?

REPLY

Yes, but this is a rather severe remedy and is used only as a last resort. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on excess perspiration.

LOOKING FOR AN EXCUSE

L. W. writes: Will drinking port wine keep the blood count up and the blood pressure down?

REPLY

Port wine keeps the spirits up but to my knowledge it has no effect on the blood count or pressure.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

The Wall Street Journal tracked down a not-too-bright office girl who, when finally discovered, had thought for eight solid months that the waste-paper chute down to the furnace was a filing cabinet. That's where she had stuffed every letter given her to file.

"That's not the worst of it," mourned the bank V. P. who exposed her. "We figure that we lost 3,000 letters as a result of this girl's stupidity—and to this day we haven't needed one of them!"

Reasonably distinguished author dropped in to visit his publisher, but was stopped by a too-honest receptionist. "You can't see the boss now," she told him. "He's completely tied up. He's taking a nap."

If you care to take the word of Oklahoman Cliff Wade, Texas marriage vows now conclude, "Do you promise to love, honor, and talk about Texas?"

Johnson then asked unanimous consent to vote after eight hours of debate, devided equally. Republicans looked hopefully at Morse, but he made no objection. Reluctantly GOP leader Dirksen rose. "I am afraid I must object," he said.

It was after this that Republicans frantically called the White House to get jet planes to bring in their absent Senators.

During the night debate which followed, Vice President Nixon was huddling backstage trying to change some votes. Presiding over the Senate in his place was Sen. Bob Bartlett, Alaska Democrat. Suddenly Nixon instructed Sen. Andy Schoeppel, Kansas Republican, to order Bartlett out of the chair and take over himself.

What Nixon feared was a motion by Senator Johnson to table the Strauss appointment. This could not be debated. It would mean an immediate vote with three GOP Senators absent. So Nixon wanted a Republican presiding over the Senate, not a Democrat who might rule favorably to Johnson.

Johnson Gives A Vote

Johnson, however, had no real intention of calling for a vote to table the Strauss nomination. Privately he told Dirksen:

"I'm not going to rule out a motion to table," he said, "but I'll give you my word that you'll get plenty of advance notice if I do."

"That's fair enough," Dirksen replied. He urged, however, that the vote go over until the next day.

"No," replied Johnson. "You've been yelling for a vote. And we're going to vote tonight. I've been accused of harassing and persecuting this man. I've been trying to get a vote for a week and we'll get one tonight. You say your last Senator, Milt Young, will be here at 3:30 a. m. We'll wait for him and then vote."

Sen. Tom Kuchel of California, the Republican whip, came over to the desk of Sen. Clint Anderson of New Mexico who had been master-minding Democratic strategy. "How do you see it?" he asked.

"As I see it," replied Anderson, "Lyndon Johnson has put you in one heck of a box. Here is the great liberal, Senator Javits of New York, who crusaded against filibusters, now filibustering. Here is Goldwater filibustering. If you Republicans want to filibuster for two or three days you've set a pattern for us and we can continue. If you don't want to vote now on your man, we can hold up the vote indefinitely."

Actully, Dirksen knew the Republicans didn't have the votes even with all three absentees present. He was stalling for time. The Johnson forces thought they had the votes, but weren't quite sure. Inside a room just off the Senate, Harry Byrd of Virginia, Jim Eastland of Mississippi, and Bob Kerr of Oklahoma, all Democrats, were sitting over their bourbon, masterminding strategy for the Strauss Republicans.

Goldwater Explodes

A Senate functionary who had been with them finally brought out the word. "They've only got 48 votes, and they're counting on Muskie (Maine) and Williams (N. J.)."

The Johnson forces knew these two Democratic Senators had been wavering but had finally made up their minds to vote against Strauss. That made 46 votes for Strauss, even after Young of North Dakota returned. So with Young still flying toward Washington, Johnson approached Dirksen and offered to give the Republicans one pro-Strauss Democratic vote. That was why Mansfield of Montana, who was present, paired with the absent Young.

The vote was called. Nixon was in the chair ready to break a tie. But there was no tie. It came out as anti-Strauss forces expected—49 to 46 against him.

Sen. Barry Goldwater was livid with rage. Jumping to his feet he approached Sen. George Smathers of Florida, Democrat, who had voted against Strauss. Without saying a word Goldwater rushed Smathers, his fists out. Smathers, who is lean and athletic, turned the Arizona Senator aside with his shoulder as a football runner turns off a tackler.

"What's the matter with you?" he asked. "Do you want to step outside?"

Senator Goldwater apparently had expected Smathers to vote for Strauss, and was so wrought up he lost control of himself. He turned and left the Senate floor.

Decisions In Next Three Weeks May Bring On War

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—If there is a war in the not far distant future—and it doesn't have to be a nuclear war either — decisions made in the next three weeks can bring it on.

The coming three weeks before the Foreign Ministers Conference is resumed can be crucial. Mistaken attitudes of appeasement could prove more dangerous today than similar policies appeared to be at the time of the 1938 "summit" conference at Munich which preceded by a year the outbreak of World War II.

Few persons, generally speaking, realize the gravity of the situation. They look at the outward signs of peace and view with indifference the negotiations that have been going on for six weeks at Geneva between the East and West. Why should there be war, they ask, when neither side wants it? Then comes the usual argument about how terrible a nuclear war would be and how both sides would be devastated. Most people thereupon dismiss the subject as academic.

What is not generally considered is that a non-nuclear war can come as readily today as it did in Europe in 1939 or in Korea in 1950. It can come again as a result of the same kind of bluffing tactics which are being engaged in today. Sooner or later someone takes a chance and assumes the other fellow will not fight. Then war comes. In three major instances in this century it has been based on a miscalculation of the strength and possible reaction of the democracies of the West to an act of aggression.

Why should Moscow miscalculate? For one thing the West gives the appearance of disunity and of military unpreparedness. The West is strong enough to fight a nuclear war but the Soviets may have their doubts whether, when the chips are down, any nuclear weapons would be used by either side. Military men of the West have built their entire defense plan on the theory that atomic bombs would certainly be used. But just as both sides refrained from poison gas in the last war, so it is possible that because of world opinion nuclear weapons would be abandoned.

The kind of war that could readily happen is called "conventional" because it involves only land armies and the type of bombs that were dropped from military aircraft in the Korean war between 1950 and 1953. While this was a "conventional" war, there were at least 1,000,000 men engaged in it at its peak. The Communists are aware that the West is weak in "conventional" armament.

What would be the main basis, however, for the Soviet miscalculation that could bring on a war? The Geneva Conference, for one thing, has not convinced the Soviet government that the allies are united. There is a strong belief in Moscow that Britain will not stand with America and France on a platform of resoluteness. The Soviets already have miscontrued British Prime Minister Macmillan's eagerness to negotiate as a sign of weakness or timidity. Again and again press reports in the West have said that the British want a "summit" conference at any cost and that it doesn't matter whether any concessions have been made in advance by the Soviets. It is true that the British prime minister doesn't want to leave any stone unturned to negotiate peace, but he is neither a Chamberlain nor a Baldwin. Furthermore, he knows America and how it reacts to threats and ultimatums such as the Soviets have been issuing.

The men in the Kremlin could make no greater mistake than to assume that Britain at the showdown stage will fail her allies or will adopt a weaker position toward the Soviet Union than do the other partners in the Western alliance.

But the big problem of the moment is to make clear to the world that the Western countries are united. It will take more than mere words to do it. For one thing the British Labor Party in England and the Democratic Party in the United States will each have to make a dramatic demonstration of faith and confidence in its own government's policies. More will be required than just proclamations of high purpose and unity. The West will have to tell the Soviets that, much as war is deplored, there may come a time when resistance will become inevitable and that the Kremlin should not play with fire and take risks.

Accidents can happen in moments of international tension and it is significant that only last week when Communist planes attacked an American plane in the Far East widespread demands arose that the fire should be returned if any such incidents happen again. That's only another way of saying that America has not become pacifist minded and will not accept any encroachment on her rights.

In the next three weeks the Western allies have an opportunity to issue an unequivocal warning. There may be some merit in wanting to keep on talking to the Soviet Union in more conferences but there is danger in giving the impression that the West is afraid. The battle of the next three weeks is psychological. If Moscow gets the impression that the West is in an appeasing mood and is timid, then war by accident or design may be the tragic outcome. By firmness in the next three weeks the West may avert a war.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

The General Accounting Office, which has the power to audit federal departments' spending, has been making headlines recently in a series of reports showing huge amounts of excess spending, mostly in the defense procurement program.

The GAO, unlike other federal agencies, is a part of the Congressional branch of government, not the Executive branch. In this role, it takes its instructions from Congress and reports directly to it.

In recent weeks it has reported numerous cases of excessive spending, mounting into the millions. It has criticized both the government agencies and the manufacturers and subcontractors involved in making loose estimates of costs.

There is a good chance that GAO's exposures will result in new and much tighter federal contract regulations in the next session of Congress. Some officials in the Executive branch fear that Congress might get too tough with the result that manufacturers will shy away from seeking defense contracts.

No Peace, No War

By Leslie Gould

(In this last in a series on his observations of the Russian economy on a just completed trip to the land of the Soviet, Leslie Gould predicts no war, but no peace in the years ahead of "peaceful competition.")

No peace. No war.

That about sums up the world picture for today and tomorrow.

Nikita Khrushchev says:

"We offer the capitalist countries peaceful competition . . ."

In the next breath he adds:

"At present there are Communists and Workers' Parties in 83 countries. Thrie membership adds up to more than 33 million people."

The Soviets have one, unchanging goal — destruction of the U.S. as a world power and eventual take over by Communism.

There can never be such a thing as peaceful competition, for every move of the Soviet has the one utimate purpose — final victory of Communism. It is an international subversive movement, headquartered in Moscow.

The hard core of these organizations operating in practically every country of the world have their secret connections with Moscow.

Allen Dulles, head of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, sums it up well when he says:

"Those who feel we can buy peace by compromise with Khrushchev are sadly deluded. Each concession we give him merely strengthens his position and prestige and ability of the Soviet regime to continue its domination of the Russian people whose friendship we seek."

Khrushchev confirms this, when he says:

"The Soviet Union is always ready to end every war, except of course, the class war."

And this to a group of foreign diplomats:

"My little doves, you must all become Communists, and we shall help you on your way."

And to an American group:

"Your grandchildren will live under Communism."

The Communists firmly believe that the seeds of their kind of class revolution are firmly planted in every capitalist country and that eventually Communism will take over. They also know that if there were to be a war, the risks are high for their destruction.

So, with time — as they see — on their side, why risk a war?

Nevertheless, being realists, they know they must continue to build up their military strength to maintain a balance of power. There will be no war, in this observer's opinion, as long as the Western world takes the same realistic view and maintains the balance of power.

The Russians have one fear, and this is expressed time and again in Khrushchev's speeches. This is of a rearmed West Germany. The British share this fear, and this explains in part the eagerness of Great Britain to expand its trade with Russia.

The Soviet also have some uneasiness about the partner to the East — Red China. There is historical justification for this.

As long as the West stays strong militarily so that there is a true balance of power — war is unlikely.

Again to quote Khrushchev:

"We are confident of the final victory of Communism. For this victory—we do not need war, peaceful competition will be enough."

What the Soviet mean by "peaceful competition" is something entirely different from the Western world's meaning of the words.

There is no secret about the Communist program — set one capitalist country against another, prevent a union of non-Communist nations, and stir up class conflicts within the capitalist countries. The last is being pressed today in Central and South America.

The Soviet are betting on an economic collapse in the Western world. For ten years the resiliency of the U.S. economy has been periodically disappointing to Moscow. The recessions in business have been short lived. Each setback has been followed by a renewal of the boom, as is being witnessed currently.

The West will win the "peaceful competition" war, if, as in the military field, each country, and particularly the U.S., keeps economically strong. This means balancing government budgets and balancing higher wages and shorter hours with increased productivity. Interestingly, the Russians in pressing their Seven-Year Plan are keying wage incentives to productivity.)

Poor Posture Can Cause 'Nagging Backache'

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many housewives develop low backache because of muscle fatigue resulting from poor posture. These women do heavy work in many positions but never attempt to protect the back by developing the muscles that keep the spine in normal alignment. In addition, poor posture with sway-back and protruding buttocks throws the lower spine out of kilter and overstretches the ligaments. These structures then become thin and tear easily.

Tilting of the pelvis is accentuated when the home maker leaves the kitchen and goes out. High heeled shoes force the weight of the body forward and to conpensate, the back is arched. This accentuates the sway and aggravates pelvic stress.

The importance of good posture when sitting in a chair is well known, especially by typists and stenographers. The boss is confronted with the office swivel or tilting chair that is conducive to the development of poor posture.

Men who sit continuously may develop contracted muscles on the thigh and calf of the leg. On standing, the tense muscles pull the trunk forward so that they walk with a slight stoop.

Low backache develops when the lumbosacral ligaments and muscles tighten because of the added strain of faulty posture. This is avoided when the office worker stands and stretches periodically or indulges in exercises that strengthen the muscles of the legs and back.

Obesity contributes to bad posture because the added weight of the abdomen shifts the center of gravity forward. To compensate, the upper spine is thrust further backward as occurs in pregnancy.

TOMORROW: Exercises to strengthen the back.

CRAZY CLEAN

H. W. writes: Since my hitch in the navy, where I acquired scabies and athlete's foot, I have become crazy clean. Is there any way I can cure myself of this phobia about germs?

REPLY

A psychiatrist may be helpful and is recommended especially if the phobia is interfering with your peace of mind or disrupting your work.

BE PATIENT

Mrs. D. writes: We have been married eight months and I'm not pregnant yet. Do you think my husband and I should have sterility tests made?

REPLY

Not yet. Most physicians suggest that couples wait two years before going through with these tests. There is no harm in having the examinations to satisfy your curiosity. Your husband should be tested first.

FLUIDS WITH MEALS

W. P. writes: Will drinking liquids with meals thwart the process of digestion?

REPLY

No. Some of the liquid adds to the fluid content of the stomach, but the dilution is not great enough to weaken the digestive enzymes and the acid. The rest of the fluid may adhere to the top of the stomach and flow directly into the intestine without mixing with the food in the stomach.

LARGE NOSTRILS

C. D. writes: Is it possible to decrease the size of the openings of the nostrils in any way except by surgery?

REPLY

No. Let well enough alone.

PERSPIRING FEET

F. T. writes: Is X-ray treatment good for sweating feet?

REPLY

Yes, but this is a rather severe remedy and is used only as a last resort. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on excess perspiration.

LOOKING FOR AN EXCUSE

L. W. writes: Will drinking port wine keep the blood count up and the blood pressure down?

REPLY

Port wine keeps the spirits up but to my knowledge it has no effect on the blood count or pressure.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

The Wall Street Journal tracked down a not-too-bright office girl who, when finally discovered, had thought for eight solid months that the waste-paper chute down to the furnace was a filing cabinet. That's where she had stuffed every letter given her to file.

"That's not the worst of it," mourned the bank V. P. who exposed her. "We figure that we lost 3,000 letters as a result of this girl's stupidity—and to this day we haven't needed one of them!"

Reasonably distinguished author dropped in to visit his publisher, but was stopped by a too-honest receptionist. "You can't see the boss now," she told him. "He's completely tied up. He's taking a nap."

If you care to take the word of Oklahoman Cliff Wade, Texas marriage vows now conclude, "Do you promise to love, honor, and talk about Texas?"

50 Entries Received For CCC Invitational Tourney

Gerry Kush, Argyle Ace, To Vie Here

Diggs Sisters Will Compete In Event Opening Thursday

Fifty entries have been received for the ninth annual invitation tournament of the Women's Golf Association, a two-day 36-hole event, which is scheduled to get under way Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Geraldine "Gerry" Kush, of the Argyle Country Club, near Washington, D.C., was among the entries received yesterday. Mrs. Kush has won the District of Columbia title several times and also is a former Maryland State champion. "Gerry" will be participating in the C.C.C. event for the first time. She was runner-up in the D.C. title event this year.

Mrs. Kush, the Diggs Sisters, Barbara and Kathryn, of the Manor Country Club, of Washington, Mrs. Singhass, formerly Mary Ann Musser, daughter of the pro at the All View Country Club, Mrs. G. William Bibby, of the Cumberland Country Club, and Mrs. Claude Richards, of Westminster, Md., the defending champion, are among the lowest handicap golfers entered in the 1959 event in which the player with low gross score will receive the Old Export Bowl. Golfers who have gained a leg on the bowl which must be won three times by the same player to be retired are Mrs. Richards in 1958, Mrs. Maurice Glick, Baltimore, in 1957, and Capt. Lucille Busch, San Diego, Calif., in 1956. Since the tourney was made a 36-hole affair in 1955, the lowest score was Mrs. Glick's 156 three years ago.

Miss Mary Ann Downey, of Baltimore, retired the first Old Export Bowl by winning tournaments in 1953, 1954 and 1955.

Players with handicaps of 25 and under are eligible for the CCC Invitational which had its inception in 1951.

Among the entries received to date are seven players from the North Fork Country Club, Johnstown, Pa., eight from the Country Club of Maryland, and five from the Maplehurst Country Club of Frostburg. Cumberland will be represented by 15 players while others will come from the Manor Country Club, Argyle Country Club, Fountain Head Country Club of Hagerstown, Baltimore Country Club, Congressional Country Club and the Farmington Country Club, of Charlottesville, Va.

Jane Schiller, of Green Hills Country Club, Salisbury, Md., who defeated Mrs. Bibby in a playoff for runner-up honors last year after each had posted 167s, is not among the entries for this week's test. Mrs. Richards is the only past champion entered thus far.

Birds Recall Jack Fisher

George Zuverink Is Sent To Miami

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Relief pitcher George Zuverink, troubled by a sore arm all season, was optioned to Miami of the International League Monday by the Baltimore Orioles, and young Jack Fisher was brought up to replace him.

The 32-year-old Zuverink, whose best major league season was 1957 when he won 10 games and lost 6 for Baltimore, spent the first 30 days of the present campaign on the disabled list. He relieved in only six games for the Orioles, giving up 15 hits and six earned runs in 13 innings. His record is 0-1.

Fisher, who just turned 20, made an impression on manager Paul Richards during spring training. At Miami, where he was sent for more seasoning, he had an 8-4 record after winning his first six games. He struck out 71 International League batters, walked only 39 and had a .306 earned run average.

Last season at Wilson in the Class B Carolina League, Fisher had a 14-11 record.

Yanks Win, Mantle Stars

Belts Two Homers In 11-6 Win At KC

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Mickey Mantle batted in six runs Monday night including his 16th and 17th home runs and a triple as the New York Yankees stopped Kansas City 11-6.

It was the first time this season that Mantle had hit more than one homer in a game. His first home run came in the initial inning off starter Ray Herbert and his second was in the seventh inning with two mates on base off Bob Grim.

Mantle's fifth-inning triple, also with two runners on, sent Herbert to the showers and brought in Tom Sturdivant for the Athletics.

Sturdivant was replaced by Grim to lead off the sixth. Murry Dickson finished up for the Athletics.

Bobby Shantz got credit for the win, his second of the season against the same number of losses. He replaced starter Bob Turley in the fifth and did not give up a hit until the ninth.

Bill Skowron hit his 14th home run of the season for New York with a runner aboard in the fourth inning.

Earl Buchholz Springs Upset At Wimbledon

18-Year-Old Wins Over Pietrangeli

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Earl Buchholz, lanky American 18-year-old, volleyed and smashed third-seeded Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy to defeat Monday in the biggest upset of the opening session of the 73rd Wimbledon Lawn Tennis Championships.

The St. Louis, Mo., high school student knocked out the stocky Italian, regarded as Europe's best player, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5, 7-5. He did it in spite of having his left side heavily taped.

Troubled With Cramp

"I had an operation during the winter," Buchholz said afterward, "before today's match I was troubled with a cramp on my groin, so I had it strapped up. It gave me trouble only when I served."

Alex Olmedo, 23 - year - old Peruvian who is top seeded, and Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio—Buchholz's more famed colleagues on the U.S. Davis Cup team — also went into the second round of men's singles.

Olmedo, who won the Davis Cup almost single-handedly for America, coasted to a 6-2, 6-4, 6-3 victory over Warren Woodcock, 22-year-old Australian. McKay, seeded fifth, defeated Ian Vermaak, South African Davis Cup player, 6-2, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Patty Is Loser

Budge Patty, the Los Angeles veteran who operates a Paris travel bureau, and Jaroslav Drobny, an Egyptian citizen who lives in London, both lost their opening matches. They were the only former Wimbledon champions in the field of 128.

Alan Mills of Britain defeated the 37-year-old Drobny, winner in 1954, by scores of 14-12, 3-6, 10-8, 8-6. Jon Douglas, former Stanford football player from Santa Monica, Calif., eliminated Patty, the 1950 winner, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

The Douglas victory went down as the day's No. 2 upset. Patty wasn't seeded this year for the first time in many years, but he's ahead of Douglas in the U.S. rankings.

In all, it was a good day for the Americans. In addition to Olmedo, who lives in Los Angeles and is an official U.S. representative here, MacKay and upsetters Buchholz and Douglas, veteran Gardnar Mulloy, Jack Frost, Myron Franks and Malcom Fox turned in first round victories.

Buchholz's main weapons were a sizzling cross court backhand and a forehand that skimmed the sidelines.

Ireland Named AD

CHICAGO (UPI) — Basketball Coach George Ireland of Loyola University was named athletic director Monday to succeed the Rev. John Bieri, S.J. He will remain as basketball coach.

Ireland, 46, has coached at Loyola for eight years. His teams have won 97 and lost 94 games.

Michael Named Cage Mentor For Vikings

Carroll Michael has been appointed head basketball coach at Petersburg High School, succeeding William "Honey" Crites, resigned, according to A. Neil Frye, superintendent of schools of Grant County, W. Va.

Michael is a graduate of Petersburg High School, where he excelled in basketball, and also was graduated from Shepherd College. He has served as assistant to Crites for the past several years.

Mr. Frye stated that Crites' successor as football coach at Petersburg High School will not be known until the school board holds its next session on Monday, July 6.

Cincy Reds Win Over Cleveland, 4-0

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jim O'Toole allowed the Cleveland Indians only two hits in a rain-abbreviated exhibition game here Monday night as the Cincinnati Reds defeated the American League leaders 4-0. The game was halted after four and a half innings.

O'Toole, making his first start since he was injured in an automobile accident last month, struck out two, walked one and was never in difficulty.

Proceeds from the game, the second of a three game series, will go for equipment for sandlot baseball teams.

The Indians won an earlier game played in Minneapolis, 4-3. The final game will be played next week in Cleveland.

Schmeling Says Johansson Has Chance To Win

Max Declares Ingo "Terrific Puncher"

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — Max Schmeling, one of he last great European heavyweights to fight for the world title in the United States, gives Ingemar Johansson a "more than even chance" to wrest the crown from Floyd Patterson.

"Ingo is a good boy, a strong boy, a terrific puncher," said the former world champion.

"I haven't seen Patterson fight, but from what I heard and read about him, he'll face the toughest going of his career against Ingo.

"Ingo has a more than even chance."

Will Listen To Radio

In an exclusive interview with United Press International, Schmeling said that only a week-long heat wave throughout Germany is preventing him from watching the bout from the ringside. He is an executive in the German branch of a U.S. soft drink company, and "business has been such that I cannot get away from it for even a day."

But Schmeling plans to be up all night on Thursday to hear a radio broadcast of the New York fight and keep his fingers crossed for Johansson, whom he considers one of the finest European fighters ever.

NORWALK, Conn. (AP)—Bruce Harlan, 33, diving coach at the University of Michigan, died Monday in Norwalk Hospital from injuries he received Sunday night at Fairfield when he fell 27 feet from a diving platform and struck the edge of a swimming pool.

Wilhelm's Brother Signed By Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles decided Monday to find out if history could repeat and signed up a 23-year-old rookie pitcher, Gary Cooper Wilhelm.

He's the brother of Hoyt Wilhelm, the Oriole pitcher who has revived the knuckle ball craze.

Hoyt labored in the major leagues for eight seasons before making his biggest splash at the age of 35. That was September when he pitched a no-hit, no run game against the New York Yankees shortly after reporting to Baltimore from Cleveland.

He won nine straight this season before losing.

Brother Gary, 23, has been showing his stuff to the Orioles for the past week.

His best pitch is a knuckle ball.

50 Entries Received For CCC Invitational Tourney

Gerry Kush, Argyle Ace, To Vie Here

Diggs Sisters Will Compete In Event Opening Thursday

Fifty entries have been received for the ninth annual invitation tournament of the Women's Golf Association, a two-day 36-hole event, which is scheduled to get under way Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Geraldine "Gerry" Kush, of the Argyle Country Club, near Washington, D.C., was among the entries received yesterday. Mrs. Kush has won the District of Columbia title several times and also is a former Maryland State champion. "Gerry" will be participating in the C.C.C. event for the first time. She was runner-up in the D.C. title event this year.

Mrs. Kush, the Diggs Sisters, Barbara and Kathryn, of the Manor Country Club, of Washington, Mrs. Singhass, formerly Mary Ann Musser, daughter of the pro at the All View Country Club, Mrs. G. William Bibby, of the Cumberland Country Club, and Mrs. Claude Richards, of Westminster, Md., the defending champion, are among the lowest handicap golfers entered in the 1959 event in which the player with low gross score will receive the Old Export Bowl. Golfers who have gained a leg on the bowl which must be won three times by the same player to be retired are Mrs. Richards in 1958, Mrs. Maurice Glick, Baltimore, in 1957, and Capt. Lucille Busch, San Diego, Calif., in 1956. Since the tourney was made a 36-hole affair in 1955, the lowest score was Mrs. Glick's 156 three years ago.

Miss Mary Ann Downey, of Baltimore, retired the first Old Export Bowl by winning tournaments in 1953, 1954 and 1955.

Players with handicaps of 25 and under are eligible for the CCC Invitational which had its inception in 1951.

Among the entries received to date are seven players from the North Fork Country Club, Johnstown, Pa., eight from the Country Club of Maryland, and five from the Maplehurst Country Club of Frostburg. Cumberland will be represented by 15 players while others will come from the Manor Country Club, Argyle Country Club, Fountain Head Country Club of Hagerstown, Baltimore Country Club, Congressional Country Club and the Farmington Country Club, of Charlottesville, Va.

Jane Schiller, of Green Hills Country Club, Salisbury, Md., who defeated Mrs. Bibby in a playoff for runner-up honors last year after each had posted 167s, is not among the entries for this week's test. Mrs. Richards is the only past champion entered thus far.

Birds Recall Jack Fisher

George Zuverink Is Sent To Miami

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Relief pitcher George Zuverink, troubled by a sore arm all season, was optioned to Miami of the International League Monday by the Baltimore Orioles, and young Jack Fisher was brought up to replace him.

The 32-year-old Zuverink, whose best major league season was 1957 when he won 10 games and lost 6 for Baltimore, spent the first 30 days of the present campaign on the disabled list. He relieved in only six games for the Orioles, giving up 15 hits and six earned runs in 13 innings. His record is 0-1.

Fisher, who just turned 20, made an impression on manager Paul Richards during spring training. At Miami, where he was sent for more seasoning, he had an 8-4 record after winning his first six games. He struck out 71 International League batters, walked only 39 and had a .306 earned run average.

Last season at Wilson in the Class B Carolina League, Fisher had a 14-11 record.

Yanks Win, Mantle Stars

Belts Two Homers In 11-6 Win At KC

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Mickey Mantle batted in six runs Monday night including his 16th and 17th home runs and a triple as the New York Yankees stopped Kansas City 11-6.

It was the first time this season that Mantle had hit more than one homer in a game. His first home run came in the initial inning off starter Ray Herbert and his second was in the seventh inning with two mates on base off Bob Grim.

Mantle's fifth-inning triple, also with two runners on, sent Herbert to the showers and brought in Tom Sturdivant for the Athletics.

Sturdivant was replaced by Grim to lead off the sixth. Murry Dickson finished up for the Athletics.

Bobby Shantz got credit for the win, his second of the season against the same number of losses. He replaced starter Bob Turley in the fifth and did not give up a hit until the ninth.

Bill Skowron hit his 14th home run of the season for New York with a runner aboard in the fourth inning.

Earl Buchholz Springs Upset At Wimbledon

18-Year-Old Wins Over Pietrangeli

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Earl Buchholz, lanky American 18-year-old, volleyed and smashed third-seeded Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy to defeat Monday in the biggest upset of the opening session of the 73rd Wimbledon Lawn Tennis Championships.

The St. Louis, Mo., high school student knocked out the stocky Italian, regarded as Europe's best player, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5, 7-5. He did it in spite of having his left side heavily taped.

Troubled With Cramp

"I had an operation during the winter," Buchholz said afterward. "before today's match I was troubled with a cramp on my groin, so I had it strapped up. It gave me trouble only when I served."

Alex Olmedo, 23-year-old Peruvian who is top seeded, and Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio—Buchholz's more famed colleagues on the U.S. Davis Cup team — also went into the second round of men's singles.

Olmedo, who won the Davis Cup almost single-handedly for America, coasted to a 6-2, 6-4, 6-3 victory over Warren Woodcock, 22-year-old Australian. McKay, seeded fifth, defeated Ian Vermaak, South African Davis Cup player, 6-2, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Patty Is Loser

Budge Patty, the Los Angeles veteran who operates a Paris travel bureau, and Jaroslav Drobny, an Egyptian citizen who lives in London, both lost their opening matches. They were the only former Wimbledon champions in the field of 128.

Alan Mills of Britain defeated the 37-year-old Drobny, winner in 1954, by scores of 14-12, 3-6, 10-8, 8-6. Jon Douglas, former Stanford football player from Santa Monica, Calif., eliminated Patty, the 1950 winner, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

The Douglas victory went down as the day's No. 2 upset. Patty wasn't seeded this year for the first time in many years, but he's ahead of Douglas in the U.S. rankings.

In all, it was a good day for the Americans. In addition to Olmedo, who lives in Los Angeles and is an official U.S. representative here, MacKay and upsetters Buchholz and Douglas, veteran Gardnar Mulloy, Jack Frost, Myron Franks and Malcom Fox turned in first round victories.

Buchholz's main weapons were a sizzling cross court backhand and a forehand that skimmed the sidelines.

Ireland Named AD

CHICAGO (UPI) — Basketball Coach George Ireland of Loyola University was named athletic director Monday to succeed the Rev. John Bieri, S.J. He will remain as basketball coach.

Ireland, 46, has coached at Loyola for eight years. His teams have won 97 and lost 94 games.

Michael Named Cage Mentor For Vikings

Carroll Michael has been appointed head basketball coach at Petersburg High School, succeeding William "Honey" Crites, resigned, according to A. Neil Frye, superintendent of schools of Grant County, W. Va.

Michael is a graduate of Petersburg High School, where he excelled in basketball, and also was graduated from Shepherd College. He has served as assistant to Crites for the past several years.

Mr. Frye stated that Crites' successor as football coach at Petersburg High School will not be known until the school board holds its next session on Monday, July 6.

Cincy Reds Win Over Cleveland, 4-0

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jim O'Toole allowed the Cleveland Indians only two hits in a rain-abbreviated exhibition game here Monday night as the Cincinnati Reds defeated the American League leaders 4-0. The game was halted after four and a half innings.

O'Toole, making his first start since he was injured in an automobile accident last month, struck out two, walked one and was never in difficulty.

Proceeds from the game, the second of a three game series, will go for equipment for sandlot baseball teams.

The Indians won an earlier game played in Minneapolis, 4-3. The final game will be played next week in Cleveland.

Schmeling Says Johansson Has Chance To Win

Max Declares Ingo "Terrific Puncher"

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — Max Schmeling, one of he last great European heavyweights to fight for the world title in the United States, gives Ingemar Johansson a "more than even chance" to wrest the crown from Floyd Patterson.

"Ingo is a good boy, a strong boy, a terrific puncher," said the former world champion.

"I haven't seen Patterson fight, but from what I heard and read about him, he'll face the toughest going of his career against Ingo.

"Ingo has a more than even chance."

Will Listen To Radio

In an exclusive interview with United Press International, Schmeling said that only a week-long heat wave throughout Germany is preventing him from watching the bout from the ringside. He is an executive in the German branch of a U.S. soft drink company, and "business has been such that I cannot get away from it for even a day."

But Schmeling plans to be up all night on Thursday to hear a radio broadcast of the New York fight and keep his fingers crossed for Johansson, whom he considers one of the finest European fighters ever.

Dodgers And Cards Win Opening Games In Dapper Dan Loop

Tommy (Diddy's Boy) Stitcher pitched a four-hitter and struck out ten as Manager John Daum's Dodgers walloped the Braves by the score of 10-1 in the opening game of the Dapper Dan Little League season yesterday at Stitcher Field.

Stitcher also had a perfect day at the plate, obtaining three hits and four RBIs. One of his blows was a homer with two aboard. Terry Lease batted in three runs with a homer and two-bagger, Pat Chorpenning and Eddie Piper garnered two safeties each and Bobby Koelker blasted a triple.

Manager Jim Ellsworth's Cardinals scored four runs in the last two innings to defeat the Red Sox at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 9-5.

The Cards' nine-hit assault included four home runs. Dave Price pounded a homer, double and single, Kenny Green belted a round-tripper and two singles and Bob Henry and Dick Chaney also hit for the circuit.

Price yielded only five hits and struck out six. Graham accounted for two hits and Lee Miller, the losing pitcher, walloped a triple. Graham and Miller mowed down a total of 13 on strikes. The scores:

AT STITCHER FIELD:
DODGERS .... 250 300—10 11 2

Frostburg's eight-game winning streak in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League ended yesterday when the Little Moes suffered their first loss of the season at the hands of Lonaconing in a contest staged at the latter place. The score was 3-1.

Lefty Marvin Miller held the league leaders to four hits and struck out seven while Lonaconing nicked the offerings of Donnie Richards and Bill Diehl for eight safeties, six of which were shared by Keith Wilson, Warren Foote and Miller. Phil Shockey smacked a two-bagger for the winners. Eisel collected two of the four bingles yielded by Miller.

Lonaconing put the game on ice in the third inning by scoring two runs on Foote's single and doubles by Miller and Phil Shockey. Hits by Jerry Winters and Miller produced the insurance tally in the 6th frame.

Frostburg scored a run in the first inning and was blanked thereafter.

Gary Broadwater of Lonaconing provided a game-saving catch in centerfield in the fifth inning.

Ralph Wilson tossed a three-hitter and fired the third strike past eight as Mt. Savage trimmed Ellerslie by the score of 10-2.

The big blow was Bridges' grand slam homer during a 7-run rally in the fourth frame. Bobby Uhl blasted a solo homer in the 7th, Nolan obtained a triple and single, Smith three singles and Munson a three-base wallop for the winners. Jim Cook collected two of the three hits credited to Ellerslie.

LaVale edged the Cresaptown Lions at LaVale by the score of 3-2 as Larry Snyder gained the nod over Francis Ferrone in a pitching duel.

Democrats Capture Lead In Rec Loop; Guards Win First

The South End Democratic Cub took possession of first place in the National Division of the Men's Rec Softball League yesterday by defeating Red Shield at Naval Reserve Field by the score of 13-5.

The victory was the fifth in six starts for the Democrats.

Donnie Michaels and Rich Bittner collected two hits each and Dale Walker walloped a triple for the Democrats. Athey and Mills shared four of Red Shield's six safeties. Dale Walker, who was relieved in the 6th by Bill Cook, got credit for the win.

Old Germans Win

The Old Germans made it four wins in six outings by downing Bennett Transfer on the Rolling Mill Field by the score of 7-2.

"Pickles" Doolan yielded only three hits and fanned six in twirling the Old G's to victory. Leasure, losing hurler, obtained two of the losers' three bingles.

National Guard broke a five-game losing streak, scoring its first victory of the season at the expense of the Police and Firemen at East Side Field by the score of 11-10.

Wade's Hit Decides

A double by Bob Wade, Jr., following passes to Reynolds and Horwath produced the tying and winning runs in the bottom of the 7th inning.

Warnick, Police and Firemen pitcher, struck out eleven and yielded only four hits but lost the ball game through wildness, issuing 15 bases on balls. Bob Wade, Sr., was the winning pitcher.

Hopcraft slammed a homer and single for the Guards. Hershberger hit safely thrice and L. Day homered and singled for the Police and Firemen who suffered their fifth loss in a row. The scores:

Giants' Eddie Fisher Tames Pittsburgh, 4-1

—Makes Major Debut, Yields Three Hits In Seven Innings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Young Eddie Fisher staged a brilliant major league debut Monday giving up three hits in seven innings as San Francisco beat Pittsburgh 4 to 1.

The 22-year-old knuckleballer retired 17 men in a row after giving up a one-out single to Dick Groat in the first inning. He walked only one man, Dick Stuart, in the seventh, and struck out theee.

The University of Oklahoma graduate, just up from the Giants' Phoenix AAA club, was locked in a scoreless duel with Ron Kline until the seventh when the Pirates picked up their run. It came on Groat's second single, Stuart's walk and Bill Virdon's sharp single to right.

Kline found it rougher going in the seventh as the Giants scored four times. Jackie Brandt doubled and pinch hitter Dusty Rhodes singled him to third. Brandt scored on a wild pitch. Then Leon Wagner, batting for Fisher, tripled off the right center field wall scoring pinch runner Ed Bressoud. Jim Davenport brought Leon home with a single. Willie Kirkland's double off reliever Bob Porterfield scored Davenport.

The Giants climbed within one game of the idle league leading Milwaukee Braves.

Al Worthington finished up on the mound giving up one hit in two innings, but it was Fisher who gained credit for the victory.

Dodgers And Cards Win Opening Games In Dapper Dan Loop

Tommy (Diddy's Boy) Stitcher pitched a four-hitter and struck out ten as Manager John Daum's Dodgers walloped the Braves by the score of 10-1 in the opening game of the Dapper Dan Little League season yesterday at Stitcher Field.

Stitcher also had a perfect day at the plate, obtaining three hits and four RBIs. One of his blows was a homer with two aboard. Terry Lease batted in three runs with a homer and two-bagger, Pat Chorpenning and Eddie Piper garnered two safeties each and Bobby Koelker blasted a triple.

Manager Jim Ellsworth's Cardinals scored four runs in the last two innings to defeat the Red Sox at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 9-5.

The Cards' nine-hit assault included four home runs. Dave Price pounded a homer, double and single, Kenny Green belted a round-tripper and two singles and Bob Henry and Dick Chaney also hit for the circuit.

Price yielded only five hits and struck out six. Graham accounted for two hits and Lee Miller, the losing pitcher, walloped a triple. Graham and Miller mowed down a total of 13 on strikes. The scores:

Frostburg's eight-game winning streak in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League ended yesterday when the Little Moes suffered their first loss of the season at the hands of Lonaconing in a contest staged at the latter place. The score was 3-1.

Lefty Marvin Miller held the league leaders to four hits and struck out seven while Lonaconing nicked the offerings of Donnie Richards and Bill Diehl for eight safeties, six of which were shared by Keith Wilson, Warren Foote and Miller. Phil Shockey smacked a two-bagger for the winners. Eisel collected two of the four bingles yielded by Miller.

Lonaconing put the game on ice in the third inning by scoring two runs on Foote's single and doubles by Miller and Phil Shockey. Hits by Jerry Winters and Miller produced the insurance tally in the 6th frame.

Frostburg scored a run in the first inning and was blanked thereafter.

Gary Broadwater of Lonaconing provided a game-saving catch in centerfield in the fifth inning.

Ralph Wilson tossed a three-hitter and fired the third strike past eight as Mt. Savage trimmed Ellerslie by the score of 10-2.

The big blow was Bridges' grand slam homer during a 7-run rally in the fourth frame. Bobby Uhl blasted a solo homer in the 7th, Nolan obtained a triple and single, Smith three singles and Munson a three-base wallop for the winners. Jim Cook collected two of the three hits credited to Ellerslie.

LaVale edged the Cresaptown Lions at LaVale by the score of 3-2 as Larry Snyder gained the nod over Francis Ferrone in a pitching duel.

Bennett and Zaks shared four of LaVale's eight safeties. "Chick" Davis had two hits and Bill Lovett slammed a homer for Cresaptown.

The Giants climbed within one game of the idle league leading Milwaukee Braves.

Al Worthington finished up on the mound giving up one hit in two innings, but it was Fisher who gained credit for the victory.

Manager Ced Miller's Bedford Road Optimists boosted their lead to 1½ games in the Hot Stove Baseball League by turning back the B.P.O. Elks yesterday on the Mason Road diamond by the score of 4-2 behind the three-hit pitching of Billy Dean and Harold "Lefty" Hardinger.

The victory was the fifth for the only unbeaten team in the eight club circuit.

Dean hurled the first four innings and received credit for the win. Hardinger came on in the fifth and shut out the opposition, fanned six batsmen during the three innings he toiled on the rubber.

Craig Sisk sparked Bedford Roaders at the plate with a double and two singles, Homer Hardinger hit for the circuit, "Jug" Adams had a pair of safeties and Harold Hardinger smashed a three-bagger. Among the Elks' three hits were a homer by Grove and a two-base wallop by Angellatta.

Gary Zembower went the route for the losers, gave up nine hits and struck out six.

Scoring all their runs in the first two innings, the Jaycees defeated the Cumberland Optimists under the lights at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 8-4. The loss was the fifth in a row for the Optimists.

Jack Morgan scattered eight hits, fanned seven, belted his third homer of the season with a teammate aboard and also rapped a single. Jerry McKay collected three hits, Pat Wilson had two singles and Gary Garlitz blasted a triple for the victors.

The Optimists' eight hits were shared by eight players. Ronsley and Kaplon, Optimists' pitchers, struck out ten.

The Lions Club took over the leadership of the Frostburg Little League yesterday by defeating the Elks in an extra inning battle by the score of 3-2.

The rule limiting a pitcher to six innings put Ronald Frazier of the Elks and Doug Layman of the Lions out of action and Eddie Spates and Kenny Robeson, who came on the 7th, were the winner and loser, respectively. Frazier fanned 13 and Layman whiffed ten.

The winning run was scored in the 7th when Garu Donus and Larry Layman walked and the former crossed the plate on Connors' single.

Charles Meehan and Lashley shared four of the Elks' seven hits. The Lions were limited to three safeties.

The K. of C. and the Eagles will clash today at 6 p. m. Scores:

Manager Ced Miller's Bedford Road Optimists boosted their lead to 1½ games in the Hot Stove Baseball League by turning back the B.P.O. Elks yesterday on the Mason Road diamond by the score of 4-2 behind the three-hit pitching of Billy Dean and Harold "Lefty" Hardinger.

The victory was the fifth for the only unbeaten team in the eight club circuit.

Dean hurled the first four innings and received credit for the win. Hardinger came on in the fifth and shut out the opposition, fanned six batsmen during the three innings he toiled on the rubber.

Craig Sisk sparked Bedford Roaders at the plate with a double and two singles, Homer Hardinger hit for the circuit, "Jug" Adams had a pair of safeties and Harold Hardinger smashed a three-bagger. Among the Elks' three hits were a homer by Grove and a two-base wallop by Angellatta.

Gary Zembower went the route for the losers, gave up nine hits and struck out six.

Scoring all their runs in the first two innings, the Jaycees defeated the Cumberland Optimists under the lights at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 8-4. The loss was the fifth in a row for the Optimists.

Jack Morgan scattered eight hits, fanned seven, belted his third homer of the season with a teammate aboard and also rapped a single. Jerry McKay collected three hits, Pat Wilson had two singles and Gary Garlitz blasted a triple for the victors.

The Optimists' eight hits were shared by eight players. Ronsley and Kaplon, Optimists' pitchers, struck out ten.

The scores:

The Lions Club took over the leadership of the Frostburg Little League yesterday by defeating the Elks in an extra inning battle by the score of 3-2.

The rule limiting a pitcher to six innings put Ronald Frazier of the Elks and Doug Layman of the Lions out of action and Eddie Spates and Kenny Robeson, who came on the 7th, were the winner and loser, respectively. Frazier fanned 13 and Layman whiffed ten.

The winning run was scored in the 7th when Garu Donus and Larry Layman walked and the former crossed the plate on Connors' single.

Charles Meehan and Lashley shared four of the Elks' seven hits. The Lions were limited to three safeties.

The K. of C. and the Eagles will clash today at 6 p. m. Scores:

Card of Thanks

WE take this means to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness extended to us during our recent bereavement, the death of "Patsy" Pasquale Mallozzi. We also wish to thank those who sent flowers and loaned cars for the funeral.

THE MALLOZZI FAMILY

WE wish to thank all our friends and neighbors who were so kind to us during the recent death of our sister, Clara Shumaker. We also wish to thank the lodges who so kindly donated their services.

THE WOLZ FAMILY

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Gerald Shepherd who died one year ago today, June 23, 1958.

You bade no one a last farewell
You said good-by to none
Your heart just ceased to beat
And suddenly you were gone.
At the time when life could be so sweet
And you could have lived your best
The gate of Heaven opened
And you entered into eternal rest.

MOTHER, STEP-DAD AND GRAND PARENTS

Card of Thanks

WE take this means to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness extended to us during our recent bereavement, the death of "Patsy" Pasquale Mallozzi. We also wish to thank those who sent flowers and loaned cars for the funeral.
THE MALLOZZI FAMILY

WE wish to thank all our friends and neighbors who were so kind to us during the recent death of our sister, Clara Shumaker. We also wish to thank the lodges who so kindly donated their services.
THE WOLZ FAMILY

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Gerald Shepherd who died one year ago today, June 23, 1958.

You bade no one a last farewell
You said good-by to none
Your heart just ceased to beat
And suddenly you were gone.
At the time when life could be so sweet
And you could have lived your best
The gate of Heaven opened
And you entered into eternal rest.

MOTHER, STEP-DAD AND GRAND PARENTS

LaVale Unit Honors Claus

The members and staff of the LaVale Sanitary Commission honored retiring chairman William D. Claus at a "dutch treat" dinner at the Cumberland Country Club over the weekend.

Claus was cited by the commission for his nine years of outstanding service rendered the community in regard to giving the citizens adequate water supply at the least possible cost.

The citation was drafted by the three members of the commission—Harry Kauffman, who is the new chairman; Chester A. Fisher and the new member, Arthur A. Vickers.

Others attending included the wives of Claus and the three commissioners; W. Earle Cobey, commission's attorney and Mrs. Cobey; Mrs. Grace Frost, secretary, and C. D. Frost; Mrs. Norman Fearnow, part-time office assistant, and Mr. Fearnow; Willard Engle, water superintendent, and Mrs. Engle, and John B. Gillett, a representative of the Baltimore engineering firm of Whitman, Requardt and Associates.

Local Police Corral Stray Cow

A roaming cow was returned to its owner early Sunday after City Police received a call from two paperboys that the animal was complacently situated on a street in the Bedford and Frederick Street area.

Officer Joseph Harvey, who investigated, obtained the assistance of the occupants of 1801 Bedford Street and corralled the cow and returned it to the owner who lives nearby.

Contractors, Union To Meet Today

Area contractors and unions that engage in highway construction will meet today at 10 a. m. at the Allegany Labor Temple to discuss a new contract.

A building trades pact recently negotiated provides a 10 cent an hour wage increase and a 2½-cent increase in welfare payments.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE IMPROVED REAL ESTATE, KNOWN AS NO. 103 DECATUR STREET, IN THE CITY OF CUMBERLAND, ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND.

Under and by virtue of a Decree of the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, passed in a cause, wherein William H. Naughton, et ux et al, are the complainants and Reginald J. Naughton, et al, are the Defendants, the same being No. 25,246 Equity in said Court, the undersigned Trustee will offer for sale at public auction alongside the Second National Bank, situate at the corner of South Liberty and Baltimore Streets, in the City of Cumberland, Maryland, on:

Thursday, July 16th, 1959, at 10:30 a. m. EDST the following property:

ALL that lot or parcel of ground lying in the City of Cumberland, Allegany County, State of Maryland, fronting on the southerly side of Decatur Street and described as follows:

BEGINNING for the same at a point on the South side of Decatur Street distant 91 feet in an Easterly direction from the Southeast corner of Decatur and Fulton Streets and running thence with said Decatur Street, South 45 degrees 35 minutes East 36 feet to the beginning of the first line of a deed to Kate E. Jammer, recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County in Liber TL No. 77, folio 568, thence reversing the fourth line of said Jammer deed and at right angles to Decatur Street, South 44 degrees 25 minutes West 120 feet to Lincoln Alley and with said alley, North 45 degrees 35 minutes West 36 feet, then at right angles to said alley, North 44 degrees 25 minutes East 120 feet to the beginning.

IT BEING the same property which was conveyed to Mary Naughton by deed from the Holtzshu Realty Company of Cumberland on October 26, 1906, and of record in Liber No. 100, folio 194. The said Mary Naughton by her Will of record in Wills Liber "J", folio 124 of the Wills Records of Allegany County, devised the same to William H. Naughton and Anna Naughton, as joint tenants, William H. Naughton having died in the year 1916, entire title vested in the said Anna Naughton, who is also known as Anna Margaret Naughton Anna Margaret Naughton died intestate November 4th, 1958, leaving the parties to this cause as her heirs at law.

The above described property is improved by a single two-story brick building containing six rooms, bath and a hallway, with electric, gas, water and a coal furnace.

TERMS OF SALE: One-third cash on the day of sale and the balance upon ratification of the sale by the Court. State, County and City taxes and water rents will be adjusted to the day of sale. The Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

LESLIE J. CLARK
Trustee.

Bomb Dug Up

WARSAW (UPI) — Polish army engineers Monday dug up and removed a 1,000-pound bomb from a downtown Warsaw street where the explosive had lain since it was dropped by a Nazi dive-bomber some 15 years ago.

The entire area was cleared of residents and traffic during the removal operation shortly after midnight. Some 50 persons, most of them children, have been killed and 114 seriously injured in the past year by left-over world war II bombs.

GI In Sucide

SAGAMI, Japan (UPI) — U.S. Army Sgt. Gene Petermark, 51, a veteran of 28 years in service, committed suicide Monday by hanging, the U.S. Army announced.

Petermark's body was found in an Army storage building. His Japanese wife was the only known survivor. Petermark listed Chicago as his home.

LaVale Unit Honors Claus

The members and staff of the LaVale Sanitary Commission honored retiring chairman William D. Claus at a "dutch treat" dinner at the Cumberland Country Club over the weekend.

Claus was cited by the commission for his nine years of outstanding service rendered the community in regard to giving the citizens adequate water supply at the least possible cost.

The citation was drafted by the three members of the commission—Harry Kauffman, who is the new chairman; Chester A. Fisher and the new member, Arthur A. Vickers.

Others attending included the wives of Claus and the three commissioners; W. Earle Cobey, commission's attorney and Mrs. Cobey; Mrs. Grace Frost, secretary, and C. D. Frost; Mrs. Norman Fearnow, part-time office assistant, and Mr. Fearnow; Willard Engle, water superintendent, and Mrs. Engle, and John B. Gillett, a representative of the Baltimore engineering firm of Whitman, Requardt and Associates.

Local Police Corral Stray Cow

A roaming cow was returned to its owner early Sunday after City Police received a call from two paperboys that the animal was complacently situated on a street in the Bedford and Frederick Street area.

Officer Joseph Harvey, who investigated, obtained the assistance of the occupants of 1801 Bedford Street and corralled the cow and returned it to the owner who lives nearby.

Contractors, Union To Meet Today

Area contractors and unions that engage in highway construction will meet today at 10 a. m. at the Allegany Labor Temple to discuss a new contract.

A building trades pact recently negotiated provides a 10 cent an hour wage increase and a 2½-cent increase in welfare payments.

Flintstone Infant 'Good' After Swallowing Coin

A one-year-old Flintstone boy underwent surgery Sunday at Memorial Hospital after he had swallowed a nickel.

The infant, Donald Cessna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cessna, RD 2, Flintstone, was reported in "good" condition at the hospital yesterday.

Watch Those Coronets

ST. PETER PORT, Guernsey (UPI)—The six show girls who appear only in G-strings and coronets in a hotel floor show have been told to take the night off when Princess Margaret appears for the Guernsey state ball Tuesday.

Said floor show manager Jack Wingrove: "I think the committee handling the visit objects to the coronets."

Parking Receipts Drop

Parking meter receipts the week of June 14 amounted to $749.80 compared to $767.20 the week of June 7, a decrease of $17.40, Inspector Harry Whisner said yesterday.

Electronics, Aluminums Feature Market Advance

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks scored another advance — their fourth in a row—despite late profit-taking which gave the list a somewhat sloppy appearance at the close.

The major groups all closed higher on average and activity was stepped up to 2,630,000 shares from 2,260,000 on Friday, the smallest total since last Aug. 19. Out of the total 1,296 issues traded, however, 489 were lower on the day, 477 higher.

Electronics stood out as a group with gains ranging past 3 points in Cornell Dubilier, Litton and Minneapolis Honeywell, close to 3 in Texas Instruments. General Time, however, lost 5 points.

Oils were mixed with some hesitance apparently stemming from announced refinery cutbacks. Shell lost nearly 3 points. Union of California, however, rose over 2 and Texaco gained a point.

Aluminum issues were higher and active. Aluminum, up nearly a point, was the day's most heavily traded issue. Alcoa rose 1¼, Reynolds 1½ points.

A gain of 4¼ points in Owens-Illinois Glass, along with a gain of 2¼ in Du Pont helped lift the industrial average. There were good gains also in Bristol Myers, Minnesota Mining, Maytag, Brunswick Balke, Black & Decker, International Harvester, Procter & Gamble, the last reflecting its designation as "stock of the month" by Standard & Poor's, an advisory service.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

"How Do You Do?"

Frequently it takes only the smallest graceful gesture to move a woman way up on the charm scale. Just the way she smiles or nods her head when you are first introduced to her can do it.

Want proof? Just sit down now before your mirror. Pretend that you are being introduced to a stranger and say, "How do you do?" Did you smile? Did you move your head just slightly down and then up? If you did that's good, but there's another gesture you can make that is even more graceful.

This time, as you nod your head, tilt it just a little bit to one side. Try it now and see how much more receptive, friendly and gracious you appear. Many women unconsciously perform this gesture and it never fails to make them appear more charming. A little practice and every woman can add it to her own store of personal, winning ways.

The Powers Girls have carried this gesture one step further to make them look relaxed when posing. When a photographer asks a model to turn her head to the left, she does so immediately — and at the same time tilts the top of her head slightly backward and to the right. With this one almost imperceptible gesture, she smooths out the wrinkles and tendons in her neck.

I see no reason why this nodding acquaintance with charm should be confined to camera work! Every woman who uses her head can lose her wrinkles and find an appealing look all at the same time.

No woman can know too much about the little gracious ways — they are just what add up to a terrific amount of charm!

TOMORROW: What's At Your Fingertips?

Make that desired loveliness a sure thing—you can't afford hit-and-miss! Get my exciting, new charm chart, "Thirty Days to Charm." A different beauty aid for every day of the month! Just send 10c and a stamped, return envelope to "Secrets of Charm," c/o this newspaper.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains were mixed Monday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was off ¼ to up ⅝; corn off ¼ to up ⅛; oats off ½ to up ⅜; new oats off ¾ to up ⅛; rye off 1 to 2⅜; soybeans up ⅛ to 1⅜.

A lack of hedge selling and general commission house buying strengthened old crop wheat futures. The 1960 contracts were about steady. September and December were bought in the early trade, with selling by northwest houses and mill brokers. Heavy rains were reported in the southwest.

The corn market was unsettled. There was good demand for July, and local traders bought July and sold September. Northwest brokers also sold September liberally, and an active floor trader bought. Local traders were on both sides of December.

Export subsidies were granted on 35,000 bushels of corn and 20,000 bushels of rye.

New oats were mostly steady, and old oats eased somewhat. Commission house dealings were mixed.

Rye showed losses of more than 2 cents early today. A grain company report voiced a fear that the import restriction law may not be extended.

Soybeans were strong in the July, and mostly firm in the deferred contracts, after rallying from an easy start. Brokers with northwest connections sold November, and local traders led the buying. A processor broker bought January against sales of March.

No export sales were reported over the week end. Outside markets were mixed. The range:

Electronics, Aluminums Feature Market Advance

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks scored another advance — their fourth in a row—despite late profit-taking which gave the list a somewhat sloppy appearance at the close.

The major groups all closed higher on average and activity was stepped up to 2,630,000 shares from 2,260,000 on Friday, the smallest total since last Aug. 19. Out of the total 1,296 issues traded, however, 489 were lower on the day, 477 higher.

Electronics stood out as a group with gains ranging past 3 points in Cornell Dubilier, Litton and Minneapolis Honeywell, close to 3 in Texas Instruments. General Time, however, lost 5 points.

Oils were mixed with some hesitance apparently stemming from announced refinery cutbacks. Shell lost nearly 3 points. Union of California, however, rose over 2 and Texaco gained a point.

Aluminum issues were higher and active. Aluminum, up nearly a point, was the day's most heavily traded issue. Alcoa rose 1¼, Reynolds 1½ points.

A gain of 4¼ points in Owens-Illinois Glass, along with a gain of 2¼ in Du Pont helped lift the industrial average. There were good gains also in Bristol Myers, Minnesota Mining, Maytag, Brunswick Balke, Black & Decker, International Harvester, Procter & Gamble, the last reflecting its designation as "stock of the month" by Standard & Poor's, an advisory service.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

"How Do You Do?"

Frequently it takes only the smallest graceful gesture to move a woman way up on the charm scale. Just the way she smiles or nods her head when you are first introduced to her can do it.

Want proof? Just sit down now before your mirror. Pretend that you are being introduced to a stranger and say, "How do you do?" Did you smile? Did you move your head just slightly down and then up? If you did that's good, but there's another gesture you can make that is even more graceful.

This time, as you nod your head, tilt it just a little bit to one side. Try it now and see how much more receptive, friendly and gracious you appear. Many women unconsciously perform this gesture and it never fails to make them appear more charming. A little practice and every woman can add it to her own store of personal, winning ways.

The Powers Girls have carried this gesture one step further to make them look relaxed when posing. When a photographer asks a model to turn her head to the left, she does so immediately — and at the same time tilts the top of her head slightly backward and to the right. With this one almost imperceptible gesture, she smooths out the wrinkles and tendons in her neck.

I see no reason why this nodding acquaintance with charm should be confined to camera work! Every woman who uses her head can lose her wrinkles and find an appealing look all at the same time.

No woman can know too much about the little gracious ways — they are just what add up to a terrific amount of charm!

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains were mixed Monday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was off ¼ to up ⅜; corn off ¼ to up ⅛; oats off ½ to up ⅜; new oats off ¾ to up ⅛; rye off 1 to 2⅜; soybeans up ⅛ to 1⅜.

A lack of hedge selling and general commission house buying strengthened old crop wheat futures. The 1960 contracts were about steady. September and December were bought in the early trade, with selling by northwest houses and mill brokers. Heavy rains were reported in the southwest.

The corn market was unsettled. There was good demand for July, and local traders bought July and sold September. Northwest brokers also sold September liberally, and an active floor trader bought. Local traders were on both sides of December.

Export subsidies were granted on 35,000 bushels of corn and 20,000 bushels of rye.

New oats were mostly steady, and old oats eased somewhat. Commission house dealings were mixed.

Rye showed losses of more than 2 cents early today. A grain company report voiced a fear that the import restriction law may not be extended.

Soybeans were strong in the July, and mostly firm in the deferred contracts, after rallying from an easy start. Brokers with northwest connections sold November, and local traders led the buying. A processor broker bought January against sales of March.

No export sales were reported over the week end. Outside markets were mixed. The range:

City Approves Quitclaim Deed For Property

Small Land Parcel In Front Of Church

A quitclaim deed, transferring a small triangular piece of property in front of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and next to McCrory's store to No. 100 Baltimore Street Corporation was approved yesterday by the Mayor and City Council.

The deed involved property 10 to 12 feet deep next to McCrory's store and running to a point at the intersection of Centre and Baltimore streets. St. Paul's Lutheran Church is constructed at an angle at this point.

It was pointed out at yesterday's council meeting that the public has been using this property for over 100 years and there is a technical question as to the title.

The corporation is desirous of building on the property line, city officials said, and the quitclaim deed was made in order to clear the title to the property.

Commissioner Lucile Roeder asked if part of the property could be given to the city in the deed but William R. Carscaden, city solicitor, replied it could not be done as the deed will not be delivered until the church notifies the city the transaction is closed.

In another matter involving a city church, a report by Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer, urged a request by First Methodist Church for removal of a barrier at Bopp Avenue be granted.

In a letter to the Mayor and City Council last week the church officials asked the barrier be removed from its present location so fill dirt can be handled on the church property.

Mr. Nuzum recommended the barrier be removed with the church assuming responsibility for relocating the barrier atop the fill which the present barrier protects. He recommended also the barrier be erected 25 feet back from its present location as a convenient to the church members.

The request was granted by the council.

The Mayor and Council also approved a request by Patrolman John H. Stitcher to be retained as a member of the City Police Department for another year.

An $80 bid by Bernard V McGreevy, 10 State Street, for lot. No. 54, in block 25 of Ridgedale Addition, was referred to the finance commissioner for further study and action.

A petition by the B.P.O. Elks lodge to place a welcome banner across Centre Street in front of the Elks home also was granted.

The banner will be placed under the jurisdiction and with the approval of the police department, the council said.

It is being erected in conjunction with the Tri-State Elks Convention which will be held in Cumberland July 30 through August 2.

US Navy Opens Quota For New Enlistments

The United States Navy Recruiting Station here received an increased monthly quota for enlistments yesterday, according to Chief Lawrence C. Elliott, recruiter in charge.

This means, Chief Elliott said, that the waiting list for enlistments has been cleared and there is an opportunity now for immediate enlistment open to qualified young men who have passed their 17th birthday.

Until yesterday, the local substation had maintained a waiting list of eligible enlistees, and these men were called as quotas were available. For a limited time, the waiting list will not be necessary, he emphasized. The new quota instructions also make it possible to enlist more men in the lower score brackets, however, the Navy is continuing its efforts to enlist men with high qualifying scores for technical assignments.

Recruiters will be available daily at the station, third floor of the Post Office Building, for interviews with prospective enlistees, Chief Elliott said.

L. O. Weaver, plant pathologist of the Extension Service of the University of Maryland, was in Allegany County yesterday inspecting raspberry plants and the bean crops of some county farmers.

He was accompanied by Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent, who said that Mr. Weaver plans to return to the county again next Monday.

Military Police Unit To Attend Summer Camp

Company B, 336 Military Police Battalion, of Lonaconing, will leave Saturday for two-weeks summer encampment at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation in Pennsylvania.

The company is commanded by Capt. Leslie J. Clark, who is attorney for the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The Lonaconing unit, part of the Army Reserve here, recently was converted to Military Police work including traffic control and performing the duties of civilian police with military personnel.

Formerly the unit performed guard duty such as at a stockade. About 90 men from the area make up the organization which will travel to the reservation by military vehicles and chartered bus.

Company D, Third Battle Group, of the 34th Infantry, is in the midst of their second week of summer camp at the reservation.

The 729th Army Postal Unit completed its summer training at the reservation last week.

Area Playhouse Offers Comedy Of Pa. Dutch

"Papa Is All," a Pennsylvania Dutch comedy, is being presented all this week at the Mountain Playhouse, Jennerstown, Pa., which annually attracts a number of theatre goers from the Cumberland area.

The play is the story of a Pennsylvania Dutch mother, daughter and son, who rebel against a tyrannical father. Mama and Papa Aukamp are of the Mennonite religion. The son and daughter, exercising the privilege that is part of the Mennonite faith, have not adopted it. They remain, in local parlance, "worldly," until they feel the call to become "plain" or Mennonite.

The final performance of this play is scheduled for Saturday night.

Water Consumption

Water consumption for the city during the week ending June 21 amounted to 88,990,000 gallons compared to 82,990,000 gallons during the same week in 1958. The water level at Lake Gordon was one foot, 10 inches below the spillway crest while at Lake Koon the water level was one-half inch above the spillway.

Antibiotics Prove Effective In Blister Rust Control

Preliminary tests in the use of antibiotics against the blister rust disease which each year kills millions of valuable white pine trees have proved so successful that the program will be expanded in Western Maryland, according to District Forester William H. Johnson.

Last year, about 50 white pine trees in Garrett County were treated with acti-dione. The antibiotic proved most effective against the blister rust disease but did not harm wildlife or fish. Throughout the nation last year some 300,000 Western white pine trees were saved from certain death by the use of acti-dione.

Treatment cost averaged about four-and-one-half cents per tree. Given a chance to mature, trees saved will sell for as much as $100 apiece.

White pine blister rust has been found extensively in Garrett, Allegany and western Washington counties and has been seen as far east in Maryland as the Catoctin Mountain in Frederick County. The rust comes from ribes plants, currant and gooseberry bushes.

Before the antibiotic came into the fight, the only control effort was to remove the currant and gooseberry bushes by hand in the affected area. This has been difficult and costly.

Blister rust was introduced into North America accidentally from Europe about 60 years ago. Many millions of dollars have been spent combatting the disease.

Fire Auxiliary Will Entertain Contestants

Event Slated Next Tuesday

The contestants who are seeking the title of queen, junior king and queen to reign over the annual festival of the Bowling Green Volunteer Fire Company will be entertained Tuesday, June 30, by the Auxiliary unit of the company.

Mrs. Douglas Golliday, president of the Auxiliary, said the parents or guest of the contestant also will be honored at the social hall of the fire department.

The festival will be held during the week of July 13-18. A carnival with rides and amusements will be held on the lot adjoining the fire hall.

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has authorized the closing of Walnut Street for the safety of the children between 6 p. m. and midnight.

Mrs. Irene Shipley, chairman of the contest, said some 14 entries are seeking the title. "Miss Firefighter of 1959" will be Firefighter of 1959''9 etaoin nnn crowned on Monday evening, July 13. "Mr. Junior Firefighter of 1959" and "Miss Junior Firefighter of 1959" will be crowned the following evening.

The queen will receive a $25 bond and the runner-up will receive jewelry. The junior king and queen each will receive $10. And each contestant will be presented a gift.

The Shrine Band will play on the opening evening and the Blue Angels Drum and Bugle Corps of Victory Post 155, American Legion of Westernport will perform on Tuesday evening.

On Wednesday a kiddies parade will be held with prizes being awarded for decorated bicycles, wagons, and costumes. Each child will receive a ticket to one of the rides.

Talent shows will be held on Thursday and Saturday evenings. On Friday night the grand parade will be held with visiting firemen, drum corps and bands taking part.

Wartzack was the driver of a car which struck a parked car on Greene Street, driving it into the rear of another parked car.

Girls State Opens Week At Annapolis

194 Marylanders Attend Sessions

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A week-long study of state and local government began Monday for 194 high school girls attending the 14th annual Girls State sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary.

After registering and hearing an opening day speech on Americanism by Mrs. G. Clarke Phillips, they plunged into politicking for the first of three governments they will set up during the week.

The girls plunged into election activity Monday night with primary balloting for city government posts.

Nationalist party nominees were: Patricia A. Connor, Catonsville, mayor; Christine M. Holzapfel, Pikesville, president of city council, and Carolyn P. Bryson, Dundalk, comptroller.

Federalist party choices: Adina Beth Rosenfeld, Baltimore, mayor; Judith L. Augustine, Hyattsville, president of city council, and Gloria K. Williamson, Parksville, comptroller.

General election will be held Tuesday and county and state government posts decided later in the week.

Mildred Gillespie of Baltimore was winner of an Americanism contest Monday night. Contestants were quizzed on the flag, national anthem, and the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Mrs. Robert O. Bonnell, Republican national committeewoman and wife of the former State Roads Commission chairman, addressed the evening session on "The Status of Women." Dr. Mildred Otenasek, Democratic national committeewoman, will speak on the same topic Tuesday night.

Lectures on government are scheduled throughout the week by public officials and Girs State counselors.

The girls will receive an official welcome to the State House Tuesday from Gov. J. Millard Tawes. They'll also hear speeches by two State legislators, Dels. Frances Holub of Baltimore's 2nd district and Francis X.Gallagher (D-Balto 3rd).

Five Cumberland girls are delegates to Girls State. They are Joyce Browning, Catholic Girls Central; Mary Beth Sheehe, Allegany; Sandy Lee Harrison, Ursuline; Joyce Defibaugh, St. Mary's, and Patricia Hammersmith, Fort Hill.

Drier American Home Is Aim Of New Study

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — The West Virginia University engineering experiment station is conducting a study aimed at making future American homes drier and more comfortable.

A university spokesman said Monday the $9,800 study financed by the Federal Housing Administration will evaluate a testing procedure proposed by the building research advisory board of the National Academy of Science.

The work, entitled "Test Procedures for Determining Water Vapor Transmission Through Concrete Slabs - on - Ground," will be conducted in a specially constructed chamber in which temperature and humidity conditions can be precisely controlled.

Council To Judge Beauty Contest

The Mayor and City Council has been invited to judge a beauty contest to select a queen for the festival planned the week of July 28 by the Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company.

The council agreed to act as judges with those members who can to attend the affair at the fire hall.

Second Entrant Named In Firemen's Contest

The second contestant in the queen contest being sponsored by Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company in its annual summer festival, is Miss Barbara Ann Whiteman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Brown Jr., Valley Road.

Miss Whiteman is five feet, five inches tall and weighs 105 pounds. She has dark brown hair and blue eyes.

A junior at Fort Hill High School, Miss Whiteman is planning to attend college after graduation. Her hobbies are drawing and riding.

July 27 is the opening date of the week-long firemen's celebration and has been designated as Children's Night. Free gifts will be available for all the youngsters attending and there will be rides and games throughout the week.

The coronation of the queen is scheduled for July 28 at 8:30 p. m. in the fire hall, and a dance and entertainment will follow.

The Ladies Auxiliary is cooperating with the fire company in sponsoring this annual event and on July 1 the festival committee will serve a roast beef dinner at the fire hall from 4:30 to 7:30 p. m. as a pre-festival promotion. Proceeds from this benefit will be used to purchase materials for booths to be used during the festival.

The dinner, as well as all festival events are open to the public.

Area Youths Attend 4-H Conference

President Talks At Center Dedication

The Maryland delegation to the National 4-H Conference, which included a representative of Allegany and Garrett counties, has returned home from the event held last week in Washington, D. C.

A highlight of the conference was the dedication of the National 4-H Center at Chevy Chase. Present for the ceremonies was President Eisenhower, who gave a few remarks.

Sarah Ann Ramsburg, RFD 1, Thurmont, had the honor of presenting the president a medallion on behalf of the 4-H members.

Richard Heavner of Bedford Road, a sophomore at the University of Maryland, represented Allegany County. During a citizenship program presented on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial on Monday, he was an usher. He also appeared in a style revue and modeled a new 4-H uniform.

A member of the Union Grove 4-H Club for the past eight years, he has served as president, vice president and secretary of the unit. He also is past president and vice president of the county group. At present he is treasurer of the Collegiate 4-H Club at the univeristy.

Miss Judy Buckel, of Bittinger, represented Garrett County and appeared in a pageant the opening night of the conference. She is a sophomore at the university.

Those who attended the conference also took a tour of the Capitol, Washington Monument, White House and the Lincoln Memorial.

Beck Reunion Scheduled July 5

The annual Beck family reunion will be held Sunday, July 5, at Blankley Park on Martin Hill, Chaneysville, Pa., according to Earl Dean Beck, RFD 1, Flintstone.

Dinner will be served at noon and there will be games for all. Mr. Beck cautioned that family members must be present to win their prizes.

Miss Quinn To Speak To Optimist Club

Miss Peggy Quinn, a representative of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, will be the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Bedford Road Optimist Club this evening at the Bedford Road Fire Hall.

Miss Quinn will speak on "Gas —A Fuel, Tool, Raw Material."

86 Attend YMCA Camp Program

Games Played, Swimming Taught

One of the largest opening day groups to attend the Central YMCA's day camp activities began the new camp season yesterday with 86 children present.

The majority of the group were transported to the camp site by bus from Frostburg, LaVale and Jane Frazier Village.

Much of the day yesterday was spent in dividing the children into "tribes" for their activities. Groups were organized according to their abilities to swim.

Two non-swimming groups were given instructions in learning to swim, while a third group with some swimming ability also received instruction.

The youngsters then spent the afternoon at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club picnic grounds having lunch, playing softball and other organized games and in choosing craft projects on which they will work during the camping sessions.

The staff under James H. Fortner, program secretary of the YMCA, includes Miss Carol Ransom, Ronald Riggs, Jerry Brode, George Strachan, Sue Wilson, Karl Van Newkirk, Kenneth Fletcher and Eugene Hare.

The theme of the first two-weeks period which began yesterday is centered around "Hoboes." Craft work will be primarily done with tin cans and cookouts will be a feature of the program.

The summer day camp will be divided into four two-weeks periods with the second period starting July 6.

$20,000 Suit Filed Against Commission

A $20,000 damage suit against the State Roads Commission has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The suit was filed for Paul A. Martin, Charles F. Martin and Harold V. Bloom, executors under the last will and testament of William A. Martin and Paul A. Martin as committee of the person and property of Lillian W. Martin.

Declaration charges that in May the defendants entered upon certain land of the plaintiffs on the southeasterly side of U. S. Route 40 near Narrows Park. It is charged that the commission had concrete gutters and curbing built along 145 feet of the plaintiff's property. The suit was filed by Attorney Thomas Lohr Richards.

New Yorker Gets Approval To Run W.Va. Centennial

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The West Virginia Centennial Commission gave its tentative approval Monday to the appointment of a New York man to direct the state's 100th birthday party in 1963.

The commission is expected to sign a contract here Tuesday retaining Alfred Stern as a special consultant for the next three years.

Final revision of a contract was made Monday and the completed draft turned over to the State Attorney General's office for concurrence.

Stern is to receive $1,000 in 1960, $2,000 in 1961, and $3,000 in 1962. He will be paid $24,000 in 1963 for his services as full-time director of the centennial.

He had been retained by the group last year to conduct a survey to determine, among other things, whether there would be one large spectacle or several community participation programs.

The Legislature has appropriated the first $100,000 of an anticipated $400,000 in state funds for the year-long celebration.

Stern suggested a special centennial train which would tour West Virginia. In conjunction with this, there would be, under his proposal, separate events in the larger cities.

In other action Monday, the commission approved the setting up of "liaison" men in each of the state's 15 larger cities to work with the director.

There persons would be selected by the mayors of these cities. Commission Chairman Charles Hodel, Beckley, would select the cities.

Scholarships Announced For 100 In W.Va.

Teacher Training Grants Awarded

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Appointees for West Virginia Teacher Training Scholarships were announced Monday by State School Supt. R. Virgil Rohrbough.

The 100 scholarships are awarded annually to students from West Virginia's 55 counties. The number for each county coincides with the total members from the county in the House of Delegates.

The scholarships include the following from this area:

Mineral County - Miss Linda Ruth Metcalf, RFD 2, Keyser.

Hampshire County-Miss Rudy Fultz, Augusta.

Hardy County - Miss Verona Bean, Rock Oak.

Pendleton County - Miss Rony E. Bolton, Brandywine.

Randolph County - Linda C. Burner, 1637 Taylor Avenue, Elkins.

Morgan County-Miss Gay Joyce Hewett, Berkeley Springs.

Tucker County - Miss Patricia Knotts, Leadmine.

The program now is in its third year and was set up by the Legislature to provide more teachers in West Virginia. Money for these scholarships is on a "loan" basis.

Recipients are selected by county board's of education with the county superintendent serving as chairman. They must be approved by the state superintendent.

Students receiving the teacher training grants of $500 per year must have ranked in the upper third of his graduating class.

Scholarships may be renewed at the discretion of the state superintendent upon the completion of one year of satisfactory work in a West Virginia institution of higher education approved by the state board of education.

On completion of the four years, graduating students may cancel their debt by teaching a similar number of years in West Virginia public schools.

The state also will cancel $500 in notes for each year served in the Armed Forces as a result of having been drafted. All notes are canceled upon death of an appointee and $500 for each year of physical or mental disability.

War Orphans Entitled To VA Education Aid

High School seniors are reminded by the Veterans Administration that they may be eligible for assistance in continuing their education under the Junior GI Bill, Samuel Weston, local VA representative, said yesterday.

The federal law, known as the War Orphans Education al Assistance Act, provide for special training for the children of American veterans who died from a disease or disability incurred in line of duty during wartime service.

Children between the ages of 18 and 23 may be eligible for benefits and allowances which range up to $100 a month for maximum periods up to 36 months, the VA explains.

Formal applications may be filed by parents, guardian, legal custodian or the eligible person himself in certain instances, Mr. Weston explained.

After eligibility is determined, counseling is provided to help in the selection of a goal and in development of an educational program for the recipient.

Information on this and all other VA questions may be obtained daily at the VA office, third floor, Post Office Building.

City Approves Quitclaim Deed For Property

Small Land Parcel In Front Of Church

A quitclaim deed, transferring a small triangular piece of property in front of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and next to McCrory's store to No. 100 Baltimore Street Corporation was approved yesterday by the Mayor and City Council.

The deed involved property 10 to 12 feet deep next to McCrory's store and running to a point at the intersection of Centre and Baltimore streets. St. Paul's Lutheran Church is constructed at an angle at this point.

It was pointed out at yesterday's council meeting that the public has been using this property for over 100 years and there is a technical question as to the title.

The corporation is desirous of building on the property line, city officials said, and the quitclaim deed was made in order to clear the title to the property.

Commissioner Lucile Roeder asked if part of the property could be given to the city in the deed but William R. Carscaden, city solicitor, replied it could not be done as the deed will not be delivered until the church notifies the city the transaction is closed.

In another matter involving a city church, a report by Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer, urged a request by First Methodist Church for removal of a barrier at Bopp Avenue be granted.

In a letter to the Mayor and City Council last week the church officials asked the barrier be removed from its present location so fill dirt can' be handled on the church property.

Mr. Nuzum recommended the barrier be removed with the church assuming responsibility for relocating the barrier atop the fill which the present barrier protects. He recommended also the barrier be erected 25 feet back from its present location as a convenient to the church members.

The request was granted by the council.

The Mayor and Council also approved a request by Patrolman John H. Stitcher to be retained as a member of the City Police Department for another year.

An $80 bid by Bernard V McGreevy, 10 State Street, for lot, No. 54, in block 25 of Ridgedale Addition, was referred to the finance commissioner for further study and action.

Antibiotics Prove Effective In Blister Rust Control

Preliminary tests in the use of antibiotics against the blister rust disease which each year kills millions of valuable white pine trees have proved so successful that the program will be expanded in Western Maryland, according to District Forester William H. Johnson.

Last year, about 50 white pine trees in Garrett County were treated with acti-dione. The antibiotic proved most effective against the blister rust disease but did not harm wildlife or fish. Throughout the nation last year some 300,000 Western white pine trees were saved from certain death by the use of acti-dione.

Treatment cost averaged about four-and-one-half cents per tree. Given a chance to mature, trees saved will sell for as much as $100 apiece.

White pine blister rust has been found extensively in Garrett, Allegany and western Washington counties and has been seen as far east in Maryland as the Catoctin Mountain in Frederick County. The rust comes from ribes plants, currant and gooseberry bushes.

Before the antibiotic came into the fight, the only control effort was to remove the currant and gooseberry bushes by hand in the affected area. This has been difficult and costly.

Blister rust was introduced into North America accidentally from Europe about 60 years ago. Many millions of dollars have been spent combatting the disease.

Girls State Opens Week At Annapolis

194 Marylanders Attend Sessions

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A week-long study of state and local government began Monday for 194 high school girls attending the 14th annual Girls State sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary.

After registering and hearing an opening day speech on Americanism by Mrs. G. Clarke Phillips, they plunged into politicking for the first of three governments they will set up during the week.

The girls plunged into election activity Monday night with primary balloting for city government posts.

Nationalist party nominees were: Patricia A. Connor, Catonsville, mayor; Christine M. Holzapfel, Pikesville, president of city council, and Carolyn P. Bryson, Dundalk, comptroller.

Federalist party choices: Adina Beth Rosenfeld, Baltimore, mayor; Judith L. Augustine, Hyattsville, president of city council, and Gloria K. Williamson, Parksville, comptroller.

General election will be held Tuesday and county and state government posts decided later in the week.

Mildred Gillespie of Baltimore was winner of an Americanism contest Monday night. Contestants were quizzed on the flag, national anthem, and the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Mrs. Robert O. Bonnell, Republican national committeewoman and wife of the former State Roads Commission chairman, addressed the evening session on "The Status of Women." Dr. Mildred Otenasek, Democratic national committeewoman, will speak on the same topic Tuesday night.

Lectures on government are scheduled throughout the week by public officials and Girs State counselors.

The girls will receive an official welcome to the State House Tuesday from Gov. J. Millard Tawes. They'll also hear speeches by two State legislators, Dels. Frances Holub of Baltimore's 2nd district and Francis X.Gallagher (D-Balto 3rd).

Five Cumberland girls are delegates to Girls State. They are Joyce Browning, Catholic Girls Central; Mary Beth Sheehe, Allegany; Sandy Lee Harrison, Ursuline; Joyce Defibaugh, St. Mary's, and Patricia Hammersmith, Fort Hill.

86 Attend YMCA Camp Program

Games Played, Swimming Taught

One of the largest opening day groups to attend the Central YMCA's day camp activities began the new camp season yesterday with 86 children present.

The majority of the group were transported to the camp site by bus from Frostburg, LaVale and Jane Frazier Village.

Much of the day yesterday was spent in dividing the children into "tribes" for their activities. Groups were organized according to their abilities to swim.

Two non-swimming groups were given instructions in learning to swim, while a third group with some swimming ability also received instruction.

The youngsters then spent the afternoon at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club picnic grounds having lunch, playing softball and other organized games and in choosing craft projects on which they will work during the camping sessions.

The staff under James H. Fortner, program secretary of the YMCA, includes Miss Carol Ransom, Ronald Riggs, Jerry Brode, George Strachan, Sue Wilson, Karl Van Newkirk, Kenneth Fletcher and Eugene Hare.

The theme of the first two-weeks period which began yesterday is centered around "Hoboes." Craft work will be primarily done with tin cans and cookouts will be a feature of the program.

The summer day camp will be divided into four two-weeks periods with the second period starting July 6.

New Yorker Gets Approval To Run W.Va. Centennial

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The West Virginia Centennial Commission gave its tentative approval Monday to the appointment of a New York man to direct the state's 100th birthday party in 1963.

The commission is expected to sign a contract here Tuesday retaining Alfred Stern as a special consultant for the next three years.

Final revision of a contract was made Monday and the completed draft turned over to the State Attorney General's office for concurrence.

Stern is to receive $1,000 in 1960, $2,000 in 1961, and $3,000 in 1962. He will be paid $24,000 in 1963 for his services as full-time director of the centennial.

He had been retained by the group last year to conduct a survey to determine, among other things, whether there would be one large spectacle or several community participation programs.

The Legislature has appropriated the first $100,000 of an anticipated $400,000 in state funds for the year-long celebration.

Stern suggested a special centennial train which would tour West Virginia. In conjunction with this, there would be, under his proposal, separate events in the larger cities.

In other action Monday, the commission approved the setting up of "liaison" men in each of the state's 15 larger cities to work with the director.

There persons would be selected by the mayors of these cities. Commission Chairman Charles Hodel, Beckley, would select the cities.

Scholarships Announced For 100 In W.Va.

Teacher Training Grants Awarded

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Appointees for West Virginia Teacher Training Scholarships were announced Monday by State School Supt. R. Virgil Rohrbough.

The 100 scholarships are awarded annually to students from West Virginia's 55 counties. The number for each county coincides with the total members from the county in the House of Delegates.

The scholarships include the following from this area:

Mineral County - Miss Linda Ruth Metcalf, RFD 2, Keyser.

Hampshire County-Miss Rudy Fultz, Augusta.

Hardy County - Miss Verona Bean, Rock Oak.

Pendleton County - Miss Rony E. Bolton, Brandywine.

Randolph County - Linda C. Burner, 1637 Taylor Avenue, Elkins.

Morgan County-Miss Gay Joyce Hewett, Berkeley Springs.

Tucker County - Miss Patricia Knotts, Leadmine.

The program now is in its third year and was set up by the Legislature to provide more teachers in West Virginia. Money for these scholarships is on a "loan" basis.

Recipients are selected by county board's of education with the county superintendent serving as chairman. They must be approved by the state superintendent.

Students receiving the teacher training grants of $500 per year must have ranked in the upper third of his graduating class.

Scholarships may be renewed at the discretion of the state superintendent upon the completion of one year of satisfactory work in a West Virginia institution of higher education approved by the state board of education.

On completion of the four years, graduating students may cancel their debt by teaching a similar number of years in West Virginia public schools.

The state also will cancel $500 in notes for each year served in the Armed Forces as a result of having been drafted. All notes are canceled upon death of an appointee and $500 for each year of physical or mental disability.

War Orphans Entitled To VA Education Aid

High School seniors are reminded by the Veterans Administration that they may be eligible for assistance in continuing their education under the Junior GI Bill, Samuel Weston, local VA representative, said yesterday.

The federal law, known as the War Orphans Education al Assistance Act, provide for special training for the children of American veterans who died from a disease or disability incurred in line of duty during wartime service.

Children between the ages of 18 and 23 may be eligible for benefits and allowances which range up to $100 a month for maximum periods up to 36 months, the VA explains.

Formal applications may be filed by parents, guardian, legal custodian or the eligible person himself in certain instances, Mr. Weston explained.

After eligibility is determined, counseling is provided to help in the selection of a goal and in development of an educational program for the recipient.

Information on this and all other VA questions may be obtained daily at the VA office, third floor, Post Office Building.
